NAZIS BLAME MUNICH BLAST ON BRITISH PLOT TO MURDER HITLER

Missed Death By 11 Minutes

Adolf Hitler missed death by 11 minutes last night when an explosion wrecked the Nazi "Beer Hall" shrine where the chancellor had spoken a short time before. Seven were killed and 60 injured by the blast. Hitler had left the beer hall earlier than was expected.

BREAKS INTO 2 SCHOOLS, BOILS EGGS IN ONE

Burglar Gets Hungry Ransacking Hedges Building But Leaves Before Eating.

ENTERS WEST FIFTH TOO

Eggs Still on Lighted Stove; Leaves Whisky, Glass on ; Bar at Night Club.

A burglar whose hunger got the best of him while ransacking two school houses last night stopped long enough to boil some eggs at one of the buildings but apparently was frightened away before he had a chance to eat them.

The same burglar was believed by police to have broken into a downtown night club and left a glass and partly filled whiskey bottle on the bar.

Hedges school employes called police this morning when they arrived at the building and found a window smashed and the place ransacked.

Officers said they found a pan containing several eggs left on a lighted stove by the burglar. Nothing was reported missing.

Ransacks Rooms.

Police said entrance was gained at the West Fifth street school in a similar fashion, apparently by the same person and the rooms ransacked. Only a small amount of change was reported taken.

At the Silver Slipper night club, 19 East Fourth street, Peter Miller, the proprietor, told police that he found a bottle of whiskey and a glass on the bar when he opened the establishment this morning.

Officers said an attempt had been made to break open a music machine. Nothing was missing they were told. Entrance was gained by breaking a rear window.

Police also reported that the glass in the front door at the Kroger Grocery and Baking company store at 75 Hedges street, was found broken by the manager this morning. He told police that he could find nothing missing.

Fuehrer Leaves Early, Misses Explosion Death

Blast Which Killed 7 and Injured 60 Wrecks Nazi 'Beer Hall' Shrine 11 Minutes After Chancellor Boards Train; Gestapo Launches Hunt.

BULLETIN

BERLIN—(UP)—The German secret police today began a great roundup of suspects in the bombing that wrecked the shrine of Naziism only 10 minutes after Adolf Hitler and other high party leaders had left it last night

By MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER

BERLIN—(AP)—Adolf Hitler, safe behind the walls of his new chancellery in Berlin, today viewed photographs of the first officially disclosed serious attempt to kill him since he assumed power in 1933.

Meanwhile the reich's tremendous police power combed the nation for perpetrators of last night's explosion in the Munich Buergerbrau cellar which would have buried the fuehrer under nine feet of debris had he not left the "beer hall" putsch anniversary observance earlier than customary.

The blast in the Buergerbrau hall, a shrine of Nazidom, came a few minutes after Hitler had left to entrain for Berlin and killed seven of his veteran followers and wounded more than 60, some gravely.

The British secret service and Jews were openly charged with an attempt on the fuehrer's life, but officials said so far there was no trace of persons directly responsible for what "must have been a long and carefully planned attempt."

The original reward of 500,000 marks ($200,000) for information leading to seizure of the guilty was increased today to 600,000 marks ($240,000) by an anonymous additional offer of 100,000 marks ($40,000).

"Top Notchers" Safe.

None of the high Nazi officials who accompanied Hitler to Munich for the annual celebration were reported among the killed or injured.

The blast occurred just 11 minutes after Hitler had left the hall officials said.

He finished delivering his speech, in which he attacked Great Britain and asserted the war would go on, at 9:05 p. m. (3:05 p. m.

Threatens to Slow Up Trains to Eight M. P. H.

Mayor Cites Old Ordinance, Still on, Books, In Letters to Railroads, Commission, Demanding Guards.

Mayor Claude M. Hunter today threatened to invoke a 52-year-old ordinance requiring trains to slacken their speed to eight miles an hour while passing through the city unless full-time protection is provided at all grade crossings.

In a letter to the state utilities commission, Hunter renewed his demand for 24-hour protection at all partially and unprotected crossings in the city and asked the commission's co-operation in forcing the railroads to eliminate what he termed "hazardous conditions."

The mayor's communication cited three fatal accidents that have occurred at grade crossings in the city this year, the most recent of which happened Sunday night when an Ohio Brass company official lost his life at the Surrey road crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Hunter wrote the commission that the city ordinance required trains to slacken their speed to eight miles an hour while passing through the city and that he proposed to enforce the law unless full-time protection was maintained.

At the same time the mayor wrote to officials of the three railroads passing through Mansfield, notifying them that they would be forced to comply with the city ordinance unless the city's request was granted.

The ultimatums were sent to the Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, and Erie railroads.

In each he called attention to the hazardous conditions existing in that it exposed the traveling public to dangers of speeding trains, some of which do not stop in Mansfield.

Citing previous demands made for full-time protection, the mayor wrote that the railroads apparently had taken an "indifferent attitude" regarding the safety of the traveling public using the crossing.

Hunter said today that he intended to give the railroads a "reasonable" length of time in which to comply with the demand before the city takes action to enforce the law.

The ordinance passed by council in 1887 provides for a maximum fine of $50 for violation.

WAIT ATTACK

French Anticipate Heavy Nazi West Front Drive Soon.

PARIS—(U.P.)—A heavy German assault on the western front was awaited today after 48 hours of intensified patrol activity which synchronized with large-scale troops movements behind the German lines.

Movements of more German soldiers into the front line coincided with the arrival of heavy reinforcements, French military dispatches said. The intensified patrol activity, experts said, seemed the forerunner of a heavy attack.

French war office communique No. 133 said:

"There was increased activity throughout the night on the whole front. There were encounters and stiff local engagements between the Moselle and Saar rivers."

French Motorship Reaches New York to Carry Back Supplies.

NEW YORK — (INS) — Successfully penetrating submarine infested waters of the Atlantic, the French motor "Indochinois" hove up over the horizon and moved into New York harbor.

It was believed that the French craft would be one of the first of the allied vessels to take on a cargo of supplies since President Roosevelt's proclamation barring American ships from combat zones.

CALLS RIVALS

Roosevelt to Confer With Lewis and Green.

WASHINGTON —(INS)— President Roosevelt today scheduled conferences with William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor and John L. Lewis, head of the Congress for Industrial Organization, in what appeared to be a renewed effort to bring peace to labor's warring factions.

Green was the first to be summoned by the chief executive, and was slated to be followed an hour and a half later by Lewis.

Green upon entering the White House said he did not know why he had been called to the presidential office.

COUNTY SCHOOL POST UNDECIDED

Election Officials Await Vote From 3 Bordering Counties to Decide Board Race.

One of the Richland county board of education posts was still undecided today while the election board struggled with the tabulation of votes cast for the office in Tuesday's election.

Voters in sections of five counties bordering on Richland county ballot on the county school board offices and the county election board awaited final returns from three of the five before the vote can be figured.

L. L. Rinehart, Sandusky township, was re-elected to one of the two county school board posts by a safe margin, but there was only a five-vote difference between two other candidates, Irwin Hunter of Bloominggrove township and W. M. Ritchie of Troy township, and returns from the other counties may change the standing, election officers said.

Ritchie had 2,332 votes to Hunter's 2,327, but it was still possible for Hunter to win if he gains a few votes in the unreported districts, they pointed out.

Rinehart polled 2,629 to lead the group of four candidates for the

Cooking School Attendance Hits 4,500 for 3 Days

The third day of The News-Journal's cooking school brought out 1,600 women this morning, boosting the total attendance for three days to 4,500, a record for any school ever conducted here.

Tomorrow will be the final day and there is little doubt but that the Ohio Theater will be taxed to capacity.

Today's dishes were particularly attractive when they were completed and garnished. A roast ham, for buffet service, was served with glazed almonds and surrounded with halves of oranges on which had been piled mounds of bright red cranberry sauce.

Apricot muffins and mock chicken with noodles held the undivided attention of the audience.

CABINET MEETS

Brussels Waits Replies to Peace Plea of 2 Nations.

BRUSSELS— (U.P.) —A Berlin cabinet meeting was called for this afternoon as palace and government quarters awaited replies from belligerent powers to the peace appeal by King Leopold and Queen Wilhelmina.

Tension in the Belgian capital was increased by announcement that several planes of unknown nationality had flown over Belgian territory during the night. Foreign planes were reported near Virton, which is close to the French border.

Reports persisted that the ministers were confronting a grave international situation and that there was concern over reported heavy German troop movements near the Dutch and Belgian borders.

TYGERS TO PLAY ON TURKEY DAY

Cuyahoga Falls Only School Out of 30 to Accept Offer for Post-Season Game.

Cuyahoga Falls high school football team will oppose the Mansfield Tygers in a post-season game at Stadium field Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 23, Jesse Beer, principal of Mansfield high school, announced today.

Officials of Cuyahoga Falls agreed to terms over the telephone yesterday, Beer said. The contract for the game was forwarded to the school today.

Cuyahoga Falls accepted the invitation after Mansfield school officials had contacted more than 30 schools throughout the state. Conflicting schedules was the reason the majority of the schools rejected the invitation for a holiday game, Beer said.

The Cuyahoga Falls team, coached by Earl Loucks, former Martins Ferry mentor, has won four games, lost three, and tied one this season. It defeated Akron Central, 6 to 0; Kent Roosevelt, 20 to 13; Akron Garfield, 14 to 13, and Wadsworth, 12 to 7; lost to Akron East, 6 to 0; Akron St. Vincent's, 20 to 0, and Akron North, 26 to 0, and played a scoreless tie with Barberton.

A portion of the proceeds of the game, which will be played in the morning, will be turned over to the high school band for the purchase of uniforms.

30 Deer Roaming Fields In Area, 6 In This County

There are at least 30 deer roaming on farms in this area, and six of them are in Richland county, C. I. Kimmel, Richland county game warden said today.

The deer are believed to have wandered into this section of the state from Pennsylvania. Numerous reports of deer roaming on farms in northern Richland county have been received in the past few weeks.

As far as is known, five deer are in Ashland county and about 19 in Holmes county, Kimmel said.

Although it is illegal to shoot deer in this state, Kimmel urged hunters to give the animals every protection so they can remain in this county.

With today the first full day of the rabbit and pheasant hunting season in Ohio, the casualties for the half-day opening session yesterday were four wounded and two others injured.

Bishop Neal, 38, of Columbus, is in a hospital with serious injuries to his left eye, suffered when struck by a shotgun pellet while hunting near Worthington. Paul Tipton, 23, also was struck in the left eye by a glancing bullet near Lancaster, and John Butler, jr., 4, of Dayton, was peppered with buckshot while hunting with his father.

ANALYSIS: Hitler Death Plot Looms at New Political Mystery

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(International News Service Foreign Editor)

The attempt to assassinate Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler in the Munich beer cellar where he and a handful of followers launched their long battle for power in 1923 took its place today along with the reichstag fire as one of the political mysteries of the times.

Already, the British are charging that the explosion was framed by the Nazis themselves and eight old Nazi warriors sacrificed to give an unenthusiastic Germany a rallying point for war.

The Nazis in turn are holding Great Britain directly responsible. Even now, the Nazi press is beginning to build up the accusation that Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain personally plotted the affair, just as these newspapers charged that Winston Churchill sank the Athenia.

If it was a British plot, it was executed with incredible genius, and missed by only 12 minutes the forcible removal of the whole ruling Nazi hierarchy with the sole exception of Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering.

If it was a German frame-up, it was a brilliant if merciless coup. For if Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels' controlled press succeeds in convincing the rank and file of Germany that Chamberlain directed the hands of the would-be assassins, the world may reconcile itself to the fact that the Nazis will swing into the war with a determination born of hatred and desire for revenge.

LONDON: Chamberlain Sees Nazis Reject New Bid For Peace

(By Associated Press)

LONDON—Prime Minister Chamberlain declared today that "the stiff-necked men" who run Germany "speak no language but that of force" and, therefore, "I am not very hopeful of a satisfactory response from the German chancellor" to the peace proposals of Queen Wilhelmina and King Leopold.

The prime minister's declaration was delivered before the lord mayor's luncheon by Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir John Simon as Chamberlain was suffering from gout.

"Everyone will appreciate the lofty motives" of the sovereigns of the Netherlands and Belgium in their peace appeal of last Tuesday and Great Britain will reply after consultation with the dominions and her allies, the declaration continued.

"We do not want to continue the war a day longer than is necessary if a satisfactory settlement can be obtained in another way," Chamberlain wrote.

But he reiterated:

"Since we have been compelled to take up arms we shall not lay them down until we are assured that Europe has been freed from the threats which have so long paralyzed the life of her peoples."

Observing that "this strangest of wars" must seem to many "no war at all but rather a sort of siege," he continued that at any moment it may be changed "into a violent conflict."

"Repeal of the neutrality act in the U. S. A.," he said, "reopens for the Allies the doors of the greatest storehouse of supplies in the world."

"We know that we cannot fail," he concluded, "and I cherish the firm conviction that we shall live to see the foundation laid of a new world in which freedom and humanity will have superseded oppression and the rule of force."

The luncheon was held in the historic Guildhall.

Only shortly before the function was it announced that the prime minister, who is 70, was ill.

The prime minister was said to have been suffering from gout for several days.

Bombs Signal Opening of City's 21st Armistice Observance Saturday Noon

Day's Program Includes Services at Monument and Annual Parade.

The booming of bombs Saturday noon will mark the opening of the 21st annual observance of Armistice Day in Mansfield, with American Legionnaires taking a major role in the activities. Mayor Claude M. Hunter issued a proclamation today asking the city to observe Armistice day which recently was made a national holiday. The armistice which ended the four years of World war on Nov. 11, 1918, will have more than ordinary significance this year in view of the new war in Europe.

The 11 a. m. services at Doughboy monument in Central park and the message of the Unknown Soldier open the day's program which will be climaxed with the annual parade and dance at the Legion home Saturday night.

J. Earl Ports, chairman, and William Hegnauer, vice chairman, are in charge of arrangements for the observance.

At 11 a. m., officers and color bearers of McVey post will march to the Doughboy monument on the east side of Central park to place a wreath in memory of America's Unknown Soldier, with the Legion auxiliary participating in the service. They will then move to the west side of the park where there will be a monument, symbolical of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington cemetery.

Bombs will be set off at noon and again at the opening of the parade at 7:30 p. m.

At 6 p. m. Legionnairess will be hosts at a dinner at the Legion home to Spanish-American war veterans and the Gold Star mothers, and at 7 p. m. the parade column will form at Sturges and Bowman.

In the parade will be city officials, police, a number of bands, Legionnaires in uniform, Battery D, veteran organizationss and patriotic groups. The line of march will be east on Park avenue to Mulberry street, north to Fourth, east on Fourth to North Main and south on Main to Park avenue and back to the Legion home. Because of Saturday traffic the column will not march around Central park.

Open house will be observed at the Legion home throughout the day and evening. At 9:30 p. m. the McVey Post drum corps will sponsor an Armistice Day dance.

Corsets Sartorial Necessity

By MME. QUI VIVE

Many a woman, on her first visit to a famous Paris dressmaker, has had the surprise of her life. Before the sartorial expert would even take her measurements, the cash customer had to be fitted to a corset. Madame has no desire to design a beautiful robe, have it worn over a multiple of bumps or a tummy that didn't know it should be held tight against the backbone. Good dressing begins next to the skin. That rule holds particularly good this year when frocks, suits and coats embrace the figure snugly about the hips then go into flares, gores, fluffs and streaming draperies.

Silhouette requirements are exacting. The waist must be trim, the bust small, firm and lifted, hips normal and neat, the stomach flat as a pancake. Unless you sport this style of a shape you aren't going to carry this season's styles with splendor. If you have been a collector of fat cells you had better take up another hobby. And, by all means, look deeply into the corset situation, which offers new ideas, aids in figure molding.

College girls favor the step-in girdle because it gives freedom of movement for calisthenics and outdoor sports, goes into the tub and out again without looking like a rag, provides smoothness over waist and hips.

* * *

More mature figures need more support than that provided by the step-in. When there are bulges to be stowed away the girdle is a bit difficult to wiggle into. For them there is the new foundation threesome — girdle, pantie girdle and bra. Swiss knit lastex swats down the roll beneath the breasts, packs away the extra hip mileage. The comfortable, long up-and-down stretch does away with the corseted, packed-in appearance and also provides freedom of movement. When a woman's foundation garment makes her look as if she wore a cardboard cylinder, as too often happens, she isn't getting the effect she desires. She wants smoothness, nice curves, combined with softness. Any rigidity or appearance of compression is not according to fashion Hoyle.

Brassieres should be fitted to the individual, not taken on chance. Those made of lace and net, lightly boned, create a graceful outline, do not keep the flesh so warm that tissues are depleted.

Time was when high grade corsets cost a pretty penny, but this season has some grand offerings that are within the reach of almost any woman's clothes budget. When making a selection, be sure to observe the lower line of finish. There should be a neat, close self-edge so that when wearing even the lightest fabric there will be no telltale ridge showing where your harnessing garment terminates.

Do Something New With Cranberries

By ALICE LYNN BARRY

It's well nigh cranberry time, and we're glad. The pretty little red berry is indicative of the gaiety and color of the festive season. Tradition has it that the gay red berry made its banquet debut on the first Thanksgiving Day menu of the Plymouth colony. It is known that the cranberry, which grew wild along the marshes of Cape Cod, was used by the Indians in a ground meat called pemmican. But, of course, the cranberry of today is different. Over a century of scientific cultivation has improved its size, flavor and nutritive content, and we have learned to use the cranberry as an ingredient in all sorts of good dishes, some of which we are giving here today.

For a swell stuffing for duck, pork or veal, line up one cup chopped fresh cranberries, one-fourth cup sugar, one-fourth cup chopped celery, two tablespoons chopped parsley, four tablespoons butter, four cups stale bread crumbs, one-half teaspoon sweet majoram and teaspoon salt. Combine cranberries and sugar. Cook celery and parsley in butter for two minutes, combine with bread crumbs, seasonings and sugared cranberries. Blend.

Cranberry Catsup goes great as a relish. Make it with four pounds fresh cranberries, two cups each vinegar and water, four cups brown sugar, two teaspoon ground cinnamon, teaspoon ground cloves, teaspoon each allspice and salt. Cook cranberries, vinegar and water together until all the skins pop open. Put through sieve. Combine with remaining ingredients and cook for five minutes. Seal in hot jars. Makes two and one-half quarts catsup.

Cranberry Butter.

Cranberry Butter is a versatile mixture, for it can be served cold as a spread for bread, as a filling for cakes and tarts, or as a relish. It is made with three cups fresh cranberries, one cup water, two cups sugar, one-fourth cup lemon juice, two well-beaten eggs and three tablespoons butter. Cook cranberries until skins pop open. Strain through cheese cloth or fine sieve. Combine juice with remaining ingredients; cook over hot water until thickened. Makes three cups.

Cranberry Maple Syrup Pie has a good old New England air about it. Make it with one tablespoon flour, one cup maple syrup, two cups fresh cranberries and pie pastry. Line an eight-inch pie plate with pastry. Sprinkle flour over bottom crust and add maple syrup. Top with whole raw cranberries. Cover with pastry, press edges together and brush top of crust with milk. Bake in 400 deg F. oven for about 40 minutes.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

I SHOT A quick, furtive glance at the gangster companion of the woman who was waiting for Dicky to see if he had heard the crass declaration which his feminine companion had made about him. That he had, and that he was infuriated by it almost to the point of madness, was plainly to be seen by the almost purplish flush of his face and the glitter in his eyes.

"What a woman! what a woman!" Harry Underwood murmured.

"Which one?" Lillian countered, and I marveled how she could get such mischief into the carefully-subdued murmur of her voice.

"Both of 'em," her big husband said, "the cozener and the cozened.

"But me-thinks she's just staked out a mess of hot gridirons for herself. Just lamp the expression on the map of that jailbird she has with her. He heard that sweet little spiel of hers, that he was just a business acquaintance, and that personally she wouldn't touch him with the toe of her shoe."

"I see it" Harry said grimly. "And now we'll find out whether he's an artist or just a rough worker. If he hasn't a touch of the devil, he'll bawl her out as soon as she gets back to the table. But if he's planning slow tortures before he bumps her off, he'll never let her know he heard her spiel, until he gets a good opportunity to even the score."

"Well! Gorgeous," he said; "what did you find out?"

The woman looked at him in slow appraisal.

"Why the salve?" she asked him lightly.

"It isn't salve," the man returned. "You're a knockout tonight. But then, you and I know that. What I don't know is what that dame is up to."

"She isn't up to anything," the woman answered, suddenly lowering her voice so that Harry and Lillian again resorted to lip reading and began relaying the conversation to me. "She's some sort of a nut that writes stories for magazines, and she said she was dreaming out one about us, and watching us because I seemed so sweet and superior to you. Isn't that a nifty, though? She evidently was quite concerned about me. But I'm sure of one thing: She's on the square; she's too nutty to be anything else."

"What did you tell her?" The man's voice was clipped, and I guessed that he was putting an iron restraint upon his temper.

The woman laughed, and only a faint edge to the laughter betrayed the strain under which she was laboring.

"I told her plenty," she said. "I was a bit rough when I first went over, so I thought I might as well give her an earful, for the main thing is to keep her quiet and unsuspicious; she's perfectly capable of coming over here and disciplining you if she thought you weren't treating me right. So I eased her precious mind by telling her that you were just a business associate of mine, and that personally I wouldn't wipe the toe of my shoe on you."

We watched the man narrowly, saw his eyes lose their malevolent glint, and knew that by some queer twist of his brain, he was amused instead of murderously angry as he had been.

And then my own body stiffened with tense anxiety, and I forgot everything save the sight of Dicky coming into the restaurant through the door by which we had entered.

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, November 10

Moderately lively and auspicious conditions prevail on this day, according to the lunar transits. Fairly pleasant and profitable situations may develop in business as well as domestic, sentimental, social and cultural interests. There is some menace of inharmony, disappointment or defeat as a result of over-arduous or drastic manipulation of affairs, or because of the brewing of petty duplicities, schemes or other ulterior motives. Be vigilant.

Those whose birthday it is are assured a year of fair success and happiness in both business and personal activities, if they will keep alert to trivial deceits, plots, intrigues or other petty undermining conditions. Also, over-activity or ruthlessness may precipitate defeat and inharmony.

A child born on this day may have a rather complex and difficult nature, although it should be active, able and personally popular.

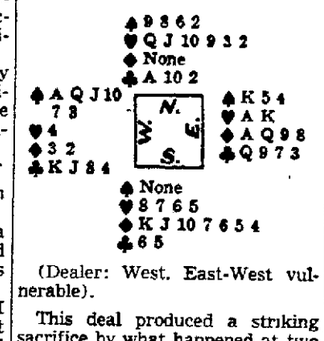
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

LIKELY TO PAY

WHENEVER you violate some rule of sound bidding you may profit from it, but you are more likely to have to pay a price of some kind for the luxury of committing your error. This is especially so of an opening bid, which may result in an opponent making an overcall with a hand he would not dare mention otherwise. That overcall may lead to a fit with his partner and a successful sacrifice bid.

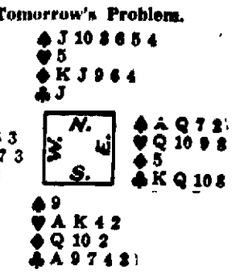


(Dealer: West. East-West vulnerable).

This deal produced a striking sacrifice by what happened at two tables of a duplicate game. In one case it was passed to East, who bid 1-No Trump. West forced with 3-Spades, East bid 4-Diamonds, West 4-Spades, East 5-Spades and West 6-Spades, which was made easily with the loss of only the club ace.

At the other table West decided to start with 1-Spade. This put North in position to try a non-vulnerable overcall of 2-Hearts. East thereupon bid 3-No Trumps, South 4-Hearts, West 4-Spades, North 5-Hearts, East 5-Spades, South 6-Hearts, West 6-Spades and North sacrificed at 7-Hearts, which East doubled. After the spade K was led, North concentrated all of his resources upon ruffing out his spades, and so lost only two tricks in clubs and two to trumps, being down just four tricks. This cost him only 700 points, instead of the 1,430 tally made against those who allowed West to play it at 6-Spades.

Tomorrow's Problem.



(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable).

What is the best bidding on this deal?

SNUG-WAIST COATS

Three-quarter length coats in maple leaf red and beaver brown have silhouettes which show a snugger waist, a shorter skirt, and a wider hem. How to Make a Splendid Cough Remedy at Home

A Big Saving, and It's So Easy! No Cooking!

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of sugar syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make at home. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble at all.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of truly wonderful medicine for coughs due to colds. It makes a real saving for you, because it gives you about four times as much for your money. It lasts a long time, never spoils, and children love it.

This is actually a surprisingly effective, quick-acting cough remedy. Promptly, you feel it taking hold. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes and makes breathing easy. You've never seen anything better for prompt and pleasing results.

Pinex is a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guaiacol, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

ANSWERS GIVEN TO WAGE-HOUR LAW PROBLEMS

Pertinent Aspects of New Provisions of Act Explained.

WASHINGTON — The second phase of the wage-hour law, which is now in effect, increases the minimum wage and shortens the maximum work-week for workers in interstate industries. Some pertinent aspects of the changes are illustrated by these questions and answers:

Q. What is the wage-hour law?

A. It is a federal statute which regulates certain labor standards in industries doing business in interstate commerce by requiring payment of a minimum wage and time and a half pay for work done in excess of a maximum work week.

Q. What change in these labor standards does the act require at this time?

A. All employers subject to the act now are required to pay an hourly wage of at least 30 cents, instead of 25 cents, for a maximum work week of 42 hours, instead of 44 hours, with time and a half for overtime. The act provides for certain exemptions from the wage requirement, as in the cases of learners or handicapped workers.

How Many Affected.

Q. How many workers will be affected by the change?

A. Government statisticians estimated that 690,000 workers who have been getting less than 30 cents an hour will receive higher pay, and that the work week will be shortened for 2,383,500 workers unless they are given overtime pay for work in excess of 42 hours.

Q. How much will workers' pay envelopes be increased?

A. Workers receiving only the minimum pay for a maximum work week will have their pay increased from $11 to $12.60, plus any overtime which they earn.

Q. Must employes now receiving 30 cents an hour be given a wage increase to maintain the differential between their pay and the wages of the 25-cent-an-hour employes who are being moved up to 30 cents?

A. No. The law merely establishes certain minimum wage standards below which he cannot go without incurring penalties.

Q. Are piece workers entitled to overtime pay under the 30 cents an hour minimum as they were under the 25 cent minimum?

A. Yes. The law requires an employer to pay piece-rate workers the statutory minimum wage and overtime pay figured on the basis of one and a half times the worker's computed hourly average.

Q. Does the change from 44 to 42 hours a week affect the exemption granted seasonal industries?

A. No. Seasonal industries are given authority to work employes as much as 12 hours a day and 56 hours a week for a maximum period of 14 weeks a year.

Q. Are sales clerks in retail stores and waitresses in restaurants entitled to overtime pay for work done in excess of the 42 hour week?

A. Not under the federal law.

LEGACY OF LOVE + + + + + +

By KATHRN BEMIS

(Copyright, 1939)

CHAPTER XXI.

"You could live up to anything. I'm so much in love with you—oh, here's our lunch!"

"Set it on the table by the window, Dollar. We'll wheel Miss Rhodes over there."

"Very good, sir," said Dollar.

* * *

Rita was a little excited by the way Roger was fussing over her, re-arranging the pillows at her back, seeing that she sat where she could see the jagged mountain peaks draped by filmy clouds, the velvety sweep of green lawn rolling away from the house.

The beauty of the new ring, the combined glamour and security of being linked to the house of Brewster, the attentions of this ardent lover, now touched her profoundly. At heart, this sophisticated man was merely a boy, and she began to see possibilities in him which she had never before suspected he possessed. Perhaps being his wife wouldn't be too dull; perhaps she could help him in a thousand ways, make a real man of him.

So they ate the lunch in a gay mood, and Rita tried to imagine this was happiness. And afterward when Selia came in and showered them with congratulations, and announced glowing plans for their future, Rita was nearly reconciled to it all. Rather successfully, she was smothering that dull ache in her heart which lately had bothered her too much.

When Roger said he must hurry back to his office, Rita thought it an excellent sign. Roger was going to pay more attention to business after this; he was going to imitate his fine, successful father, get into line as an asset to the lumber king's vast business interests. She knew how pleased this would make Dain Brewster. She had been in this home long enough to catch vivid impressions of the father's disgust with his hard-living, irresponsible son.

* * *

Soon after Selia and Roger had gone, and she was alone with her thoughts again, Rita's mind switched back to its old groove of worry. That note of warning she had received this morning! She rang for Dollar and had him place the telephone where she could reach it.

It took courage to call up Tom Cleveland, but she must get certain harrowing suspicions ironed out, if possible. In the first place, it wouldn't do to let this anonymous letter writer get by without trying to identify him—or her. She hadn't thought of it before, but that warning might have come from a woman. But—what woman?

She called the automobile agency where Tom was employed and luckily found him in.

"This is something of a surprise—a fine one. You don't often give me a break," he told her, his voice sounding so eager, and dear, and magnetic that she could scarcely endure it.

"No—I'm generally too busy to ring up . . ."

"Speaking of rings—I'm counting on . . ."

"That ring you bought Eva—was very attractive."

"Yes—a good stone. But she could have brought one on Fifth street just as fine. She had a crazy notion I could get a bargain and to accommodate her, I picked up the best stone I could find. It's made things darned awkward. Like that time you offered us congratulations. I'm not engaged to Eva, never have been, never shall be. Is that clear?"

Her heart bounced gladly, as quickly sank into despair.

"You—you aren't?" came from her weakly. "Oh—if—if I'd only known!"

"Why? What difference could it make? You know there's only one woman in my life—and I've counted on her being big enough to have faith in me."

"But she wasn't—she wasn't," reproached her heart, while her lips refused to move.

"What's the matter? Don't you believe me?" he asked anxiously.

"I'm — I'm engaged to Roger Brewster," she told him low.

"Rita! You're not—you can't be! I've got to see you—explain things! Rita—oh, this isn't getting us anywhere!"

* * *

She tried to ignore this outburst, tried not to meet him more than halfway. She failed completely, rushed into words that came out a little shrilly.

Carnegie Tech Installed as Favorite.

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Betting commissioners today installed Carnegie Tech a 7 to 5 favorite to defeat Pitt in their intra-city grid struggle Saturday, but Tartan Coach Bill Kern said a bit pessimistically: "Our quarterbacks aren't able to handle the blocking assignment effectively and so it bogs down our whole attack."

Bulldogs Boast of Crack Runner In Marantides

IN THE RUHL BOOK

By OSCAR RUHL
News-Journal Sports Editor.

THE MANSFIELD-ASHLAND football rivalry will be renewed next year, we understand, but the 1940 meeting on the gridiron may mark the end of gridiron relations between the two schools. . . . Following the Tygers' 40 to 0 triumph over last Saturday, Ashland followers complained of the uselessness of playing Mansfield. . . . Ashland has defeated the Tygers only once in the last 15 years. . . . That appears to be proof enough that Ashland is below the caliber of opponents that the Tygers should meet. . . . Of course, Mansfield cannot be expected to face Massillons, Cantons and New Philadelphias every week-end, but it might do better in the way of scheduling games in the future. . . . The Mansfield-Ashland rivalry has been interesting, and profitable some years ago, but the Tygers have made the series too one-sided. . . . It might be better for the parties to sever relations for the time being, at least.

Boles Fears Future of College Football.

L. C. BOLES, Wooster college football coach for 25 years, visions the day when "professionalized" college football will force his Scots to curtail their schedule to five or six games, and perhaps play some teams twice in a season. . . . Long a foe of overemphasize, Boles believes more and more colleges will pay their players in the coming years. . . . "I don't mean to suggest that there are few strictly amateur teams to be found," he declared, "but there certainly aren't enough to them to be found in our natural territory to fill out a schedule and we can't afford to travel far afield to find them." . . . He sees little immediate hope for a return to "sane and healthy football rivalries among smaller schools." . . . "We won't see that again until the public gets fed up with high pressure football, as it will some day. Meanwhile, there isn't much anybody can do. College presidents everywhere know that football is out of their control and they won't touch it because they are afraid. They have to hold their jobs like the rest of us, and they won't risk the enmity of people to whom football is more important than education." . . . Southern colleges already are frankly paying their players, and Boles said he wouldn't be surprised if others don't follow suit. . . . We wouldn't either.

Future Looms Dark For Gopher Club.

DOLEFUL Bernie Bierman and his once-mighty Minnesota Gophers have fallen on sad days for the first time in several years. . . . The Gophers rank ninth in the Western Conference standings at the present reading with only the underdog's chance of improving that ranking Saturday when they play Michigan. . . . Bierman's defending champions, who won three conference championships and tied for another one in the past five years, are still without a Big Ten victory as the campaign moves into mid-November. The Gophers' only victory of the season came in the opener, a 62 to 0 romp over Arizona. . . . Since then Bierman's face had become longer. . . . Nebraska slipped up on the Gophers and won, 6-0. . . . Then Minnesota braced and tied Purdue at 13-13, and many Big Ten followers passed the word around then that Minnesota still would be a mighty factor in the race. . . . But then Ohio State's big and powerful machine rolled over the 1938 champs, 23 to 20, and Northwestern, coming along fast after a slow start, cut them down, 14 to 7. In their last four games the Gophers have scored 40 points to 56 for the opposition. . . . And the future looks no brighter than the past with Michigan, Iowa and Wisconsin ahead. . . . Bierman has the backfield talent, headed by Harold Van Every, but the line has resembled a sieve on several occasions. . . . It was no secret that the Gophers were laying elaborate plans to upset Michigan if the Wolverines got to Saturday's game undefeated. . . . But the Illinois reversal upset Bierman's plans. . . . Now his eleven will be forced to play an inflamed outfit determined to make amends for its stunning loss a week ago.

Sophs Slated For Heavy Duty

Supplies Play Carrollton In Benefit Game

McMullen's Team to Give Proceeds of Sunday's Game to Injured Harner.

SPTS—SUPPLIES PLAY . dg

The Automotive Supplies will seek their sixth win of the season when they entertain the Carrollton, O., Metals at Blue Goose field at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Sunday's contest, the first the Supplies have played before Mansfield fans in three weeks, will be a benefit affair for Melvin Harner, former Madison high player, who was injured in the season's opening game.

* * *

Carrollton, composed of erstwhile Massillon and Canton McKinley high stars, is expected to provide the Supplies with plenty of opposition. The invaders recently dropped a 7 to 0 decision to the South Akron Awnings.

* * *

The Earl McMullen-coached combine has lost one tussle this year—a 25 to 0 decision to the Awnings. Last week the Supplies battled the touted McKeesport, Pa., Olympics to a scoreless tie.

McMullen is sending his athletes through daily practice sessions this week. His biggest task is to build up an aerial defense to throw against Carrollton's famed passing attack. Carrollton had the Awnings on its heels several times with accurate aerial heaves.

Maybe They'll Tie!

CHICAGO —(INS)— "Michigan isn't going to lose any more games this season."

"Minnesota isn't going to lose any more games this season."

That's the feed box dope from the camps of the two schools as they prepared today for Saturday's annual battle for "the little brown jug" at Ann Arbor.

Schmidt to Use Reserves in Attempt to Hold Down Score at Chicago.

By RUSSELL FULLER

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Ready for the slaughter, Ohio State university's Western conference football squad prepared today for a trip to Chicago and a "battle" against the hapless Maroons.

The Bucks, entrenched in first place in the conference pennant grind, were overwhelming favorites to grab the game by a large score, although Coach Francis Schmidt was not out to set a scoring record.

There was little likelihood that the Bucks would duplicate or surpass the 85-to-0 score compiled by Michigan against the Windy City lads. Once the game was safely stored away, Schmidt planned to send in second, third, and fourth string men in order to season them for next year or future games this season.

* * *

Sophomore backfield men like Dick Fisher, Jack Graf, Tom Kinkade and John Hallabrin were slated for heavy duty in the event the first stringers push over three or four touchdowns early in the contest.

Although the game appeared to be on the win side before it was even played, Schmidt, refusing to think of more than one tilt at a time, has drilled the Bucks this week against Chicago formations. On a dry field, the Maroons are reputed to possess a passing attack which might cause some trouble. Their power attack, however, is imaginary.

In five games this fall, Chicago won one. By some strange quirk of fate, the Maroons beat Wabash 12 to 2. Those 12 points, incidentally, represent the total number scored all season. The opposition, on the other hand, has accumulated 205 markers, literally wearing to a frazzle the Maroon linemen and backs.

* * *

In the Windy City, the Scarlet and Gray men will be playing before the smallest crowd of the year. Not more than 5,000 or 6,000 fans were expected to turn out to watch something that shouldn't have to be contested in the first place, because there is liable to be a technical knockout in the second quarter.

* * *

Somebody suggested that it would be a much better game if the Chicago freshmen were used in place of the varsity. A right smart idea in view of the assertion that the Maroon freshmen are bent on developing into a rather formidable sophomore aggregation.

There is only one trouble with Chicago, and one of the boys around the bureau hit the nail squarely on the head when he suggested that the only flag in the Chicago institution was that they overemphasized education.

Speaks Here

HERMAN E. SAYGER

Herman E. Sayger, Ex-Grid Coach at Heidelberg, to Be At C. of C. Friday.

Herman E. Saygar, above, of Tiffin, former football coach at Heidelberg college, will be the speaker at a meeting of the Downtown Coaches Association at the Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

Saygar, who is president of the National Downtown Coaches association, will assist the Mansfield chapter in organization work, Ned Brooks, chairman of the committee in charge of Friday's meeting, stated. The general public is invited to the meeting, Brooks said.

The first activity to be sponsored by the association will be "Dad's Day," which will be staged in connection with the Mansfield-Canton football game at Stadium field Saturday.

Fathers of members of the Tyger varsity will be the guests of the team. They will wear numerals corresponding with numbers worn by their sons and they will be seated along the sidelines, according to Brooks.

Massillon Prefers Waite as Bowl Foe.

MASSILLON — (CP) —A spokesman for the unbeated Massillon high school football team said today that the 50-point per game Tigers preferred Toledo Waite as a foe in any post-season schoolboy gridiron "bowl" game.

Waite, unbeaten and untied in eight games this fall, would provide stronger opposition than Portsmouth, which has been tied once while winning six games. This spokesman said that Waite has played a stronger schedule than Portsmouth. Waite has defeated Peabody, Mass.; Chicago Lindblom, Sandusky, Toledo Woodward, Saginaw, Mich.; Toledo Catholic, Toledo De Vilbiss and Nashville, Tenn.

THERE'LL COME A DAY YANKS'LL DROP—HARDER

OMAHA— (AP) —You can't add Mel Harder, ace pitcher of the Cleveland American league baseball team, to the list of those who think the world champion New York Yankees ought to be liquidated. Mel has his own remedy for the monopoly the Yanks have taken on the American league pennant. "Time and the law of averages will take care of them," said he.

Michigan, Illinois Favorites

Fordham Picked to Outpoint Indiana, While Wildcats Have Edge Over Purdue.

By STEVE SNIDER

CHICAGO— (U.P.) —Shooting the angels on this week's football games involving the big ten and Notre Dame, the last major undefeated, untied team in the midwest.

Minnesota at Michigan—one more slip for Michigan and it's all over as far as the big ten championship is concerned. The touted Wolverines, badly outmaneuvered at Illinois last week, meet another traditional rival in Minnesota, but this one should go their way. Battered Minnesota is rigging a defense for Tommy Harmon, but injuries to key linemen have removed important Gopher cogs.

* * *

Purdue at Northwestern—At Minnesota last week Northwestern became one of those typical "November teams" for which Lynn Waldorf is famous. The line blocked sharply for the first time this season and finally shook loose Bill DeCorrevont. Purdue, however, had one of its poorest days in two years against Iowa and won't be that way two weeks in a row. In this battle of backfield power, Northwestern has the edge over a team already eliminated from the conference race.

* * *

Notre Dame at Iowa—Here's a fine spot for an upset. Iowa, with three victories and one defeat in the big ten, it's best record in a decade, has added power on the ground to Nile Kinnick's passing. If Notre Dame has a weakness it's pass defense, but the Irish, victors in six straight games, have the edge on all-round finesse.

Wisconsin at Illinois—The Illini expects somewhat of a let down after the Michigan upset but not enough to lose to Wisconsin's four times defeated Badgers.

* * *

Indiana at Fordham—A wholesale shakeup is under way at Indiana after that 24 to 0 defeat at Ohio State. No matter what combination Bo McMillin finally decides to use he'll still be an underdog against the Rams.

* * *

Ohio State at Chicago—The best team in the big ten against the poorest. When it was scheduled originally it figured as a breeze. It may be a tornado.

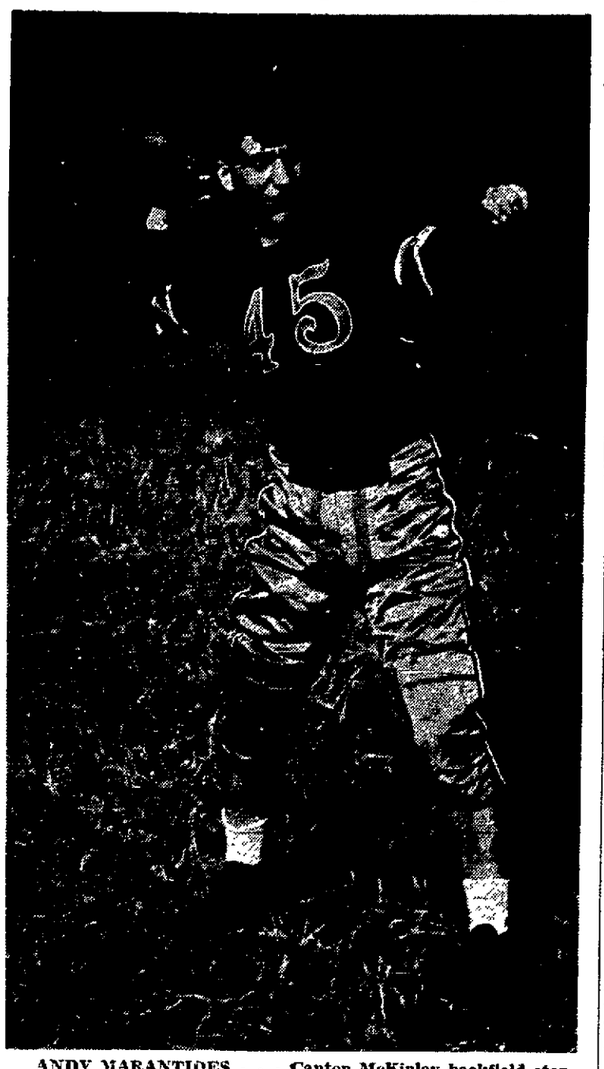
ORIGINAL RANGERS

NEW YORK—(CP)—The New York Rangers enter the 1939-'40 ice hockey season with only three members of the original club still with the Rangers. They are Manager Les Patrick, Coach Frank Boucher and Trainer Harry Westerby.

WILSON BEATS SICILIA

PITTSBURGH—Jackie Wilson, 130, Pittsburgh, outpointed Armanda Sicilia, 130, Chicago (10).

Leads Canton Against Tygers



ANDY MARANTIDES . . . Canton McKinley backfield star, who will lead the Bulldogs against the Tygers at Stadium field Saturday.

Leads Canton Attact

Fast-Stepping Halfback May Be Determining Factor in Stadium Field Game.

MASSILLON had its George Slusser, New Philadelphia its Lloyd Reese and Sandusky its Geno Balconi.

Mansfield high school gridders attest to the abilities of these three halfback stars, but their opinion as to the greatest of the ball carriers they faced this year may be changed at Stadium field Saturday when the Tygers engage Canton McKinley.

* * *

The Bulldogs present a star in Andy Marantides whose achievements rank with those of Slusser, Reese and Balconi.

* * *

Canton is not a one-man ball club, mind you. The McKinley club is well-balanced, boasts of a capable line and a hard-hitting backfield.

Marantides, however, is a standout on the McKinley club, and what he accomplishes at Stadium field Saturday may be a determining factor in the outcome of the game.

Maratides, who holds down the left halfback position, is a hard-driving runner, a fine passer and accurate punter. He tips the scales at only 155 pounds, but he is difficult to bring down.

Another outstanding member of the Canton club is Nick Rotz, 180 pounds, right tackle. He is a veteran of three years of service.

Marantides will be paired at the halfback with Bill Goodman, 138-pound sprinter, who caused the Tygers some trouble last year, and Kenny Williams will be at quarterback for the Cantonites.

Matthew Brown or Jack Chabek will hold down the fullback position for the Bulldogs Saturday.

SET CHRISTMAS DATE

CLEVELAND — (INS — Cleveland's annual six-day bicycle race will open at the arena on Christmas night, Promoter Dick Deutsch announced today.

Miller Heads Grapple Card

Victor Over Mephisto Slated to Meet Morell Monday.

Walter Miller of Atlanta, Ga., the slashing little surprise package of the lightheavyweight division, who sprung the upset of all upsets here two weeks ago when he defeated the Great Mephisto, one of the finest of all 175 pound grapplers, in two straight falls, will again go to the Mansfield wrestling pad Monday night.

Matchmakers for the Quality Athletic club, announced today that Miller has been signed to meet Josef Morell, powerful Hungarian lightheavyweight, in a two out of three falls match with an hour and a half time limit heading another smashing allstar wrestling show.

The card will be staged in the Armory arena and will again feature three outstanding events.

Miller impressed fans as one of the finest pieces of wrestling machinery they have ever seen in upsetting the heavily favored Mephisto.

The southern boy uncorked an aggressive attack against Mephisto that had his more highly rated opponent in hot water constantly and eventually brought about his defeat in two straight falls.

Pitt Breaks Off Grid Relations With Duquesne

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — The Steel city's "backyard" series which put the skids under some of Pitt's mightiest teams headed into the discard today as the Panther broke off football relations with undefeated Duquesne.

While Pitt and Carnegie Tech primed for the second of this year's round-robin Saturday, Coach Aldo (Buff) Donelli of Duquesne announced the long-heralded split. Pitt Athletic Director Jimmy Hagan refused to comment, saying he would speak only "when the 1940 program is released."

Coaches, There's Fine Hunting Around Here

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS—(AP)—An open letter to Ohio's collegiate football coaches.

Dear Coach—Now that the hunting season's opened, we'd like to tip you off to the fact that the Buckeye fields are just full of the kind of game you'd like to get—whole flocks of high school youngsters capable of lugging footballs across enemy goal lines.

* * *

You can't use 'em for a year or two, but you'll have to do your hunting for the 1941 season right away, or you'll find all the game hanging up in the other guy's freshman class, come the fall of 1940.

* * *

Bellville, up in Richland county, has a golden-toed gridder named Howard (Tick) Hamilton, that you'd be interested in. He has eluded enemy tackles for 18 touchdowns this year, and has booted 17 extra points. (That toe could have helped you a couple of times this year, eh?) Yes, and those 125 points would have been welcome, too.

Then there's 195-pound Bob Shaw at Fremont Ross, who has scored 117 points on 19 touchdowns and three extra points. He does everything. Or you might take a look at the 145-pound Bob Frye of unbeaten Crestline, who has scampered for 110 points. Hilis Hume, Alliance's great quarterback, is up there, too, with 108 points. He got 146 last year. If you get him you'll be lucky, for he's flirting with the Naval academy.

* * *

If you'd rather go south for the hunting season, you might try big Glen Wittekind, Marietta's outstanding star, who has just one point less than Hume, or Paul Sarringhaus, Hamilton's bespectacled backfielder who kicks, passes and runs. He has 15 touchdowns and 14 placements for 104 points.

* * *

Yes, coach, the hunting's good this season if you're seeking fast-flying backfielders. Anyway, here's your hunting guide. Look it over, see what the boys have done so far this fall, get out your trusty field secretaries and go after 'em. And good hunting, from me to you.

BOXING COMMISSION HOLDS FIGHTER'S PURSE

PITTSBURGH—(U.P.)—The Pittsburgh boxing commission today held up the purse of Eddie Boyle, Cleveland heavyweight, who went down in the second round last night from a light punch from Harry Bobo, Pittsburgh negro. Referee Red Robinson stopped the fight. Boyle claimed a head injury.

Dick Poling Picks:

The ratings in this table do not necessarily denote the relative strength of any one team to all other teams in the table. It does denote the relative rating and comparison to that team's opponent.

KEY TO BELOW RATING TABLE

Team listed in CAPITALS is the probable winner. A 3.00 difference in ratings is usually one touchdown difference in computing letters following the opponent's rating denote:—T., a possible tie game; R., possible reverse of choice; TR., a very close game, may tie, either team may win; RR., our choice is reverse of rating. Note! When we RR. we go against our own ratings and very often that is contrary to consensus.

HURSH ONE OF THREE HOOSIER STARS BENCHED

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—(AP)—The shakeup with which Alvin N. (Bo) McMillan threatened his Indiana university football team was a reality today—and on it the white-haired coach pinned hopes for a good showing in the fag end of the Hoosiers' comeback season.

Only one first-stringer—Quarterback Eddie Herbert of Gary stayed in the backfield. And Left Halfback Harold Hursh of Middletown, O., the ace passer mentioned in the same breath with Davey O'Brien was one of the three benched.

PITTSBURGH HORNETS STEP UP IN TITLE RACE

It looks like one of the darkhorses to watch in the International-American Hockey league campaign will be Pittsburgh, a pathetic plodder the last couple of years. The Hornets have started the season by winning two of their first three games and now are tied with Indianapolis for the western division lead. The Hornets stung the proud Philadelphia Ramblers 5-4 last night.

KNOX, POPE WIN BOUTS ON CINCINNATI CARD

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Buddy Knox, 192, of Dayton, last night scored a second round technical knockout over Paul Pross, 206, of New York, in their scheduled ten round main bout here. Freddie Pope, 118, of Columbus, decisioned Peewee Weghorn, 122, of Cincinnati, in six rounds.

DRAKE'S SCORING LEAD CUT TO ONE TOUCHDOWN

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Johnny Drake, Cleveland fullback, today found his lead in the National Football league's scoring race cut to a single touchdown.

Drake, the former Purdue star, has crossed the pay-off line eight times and Bill Osmanski, ex-star at Holy Cross who performs with the Chicago Bears, hung up his seventh last Sunday. Parker Hall, Cleveland's rookie halfback, still tops the loop in pass competitions with 60 in 131.

HERE'S THE WAY many car owners do it every year! They put in a couple of quarts of DuPont "Zerone" early in the season for protection against rusting and the sudden cold snaps they know will come.

When winter gets down to real business, they add sufficient "Zerone" to protect them to lower temperatures. A total of six quarts, put in as needed, can protect a car with an average size cooling system for the entire winter. And six quarts of "Zerone" cost only $1.50! Just one gallon of "Zerone" protects an average size cooling system (15 quarts) to 1°. Five quarts would protect it to —12°; six quarts to —27°!

You may need a little more or less, depending on the condition and capacity of your car radiator and the severity of winter in your neighborhood. But you can be sure that the unusual efficiency of Du Pont "Zerone" will save you real money.

PROTECTS AGAINST RUST AND CORROSION

"Zerone" in a clean cooling system prevents rust and corrosion, which reduce operating efficiency. Tests prove "Zerone" gives better dissipation of engine heat, helps avoid power losses. Protect your car with "Zerone" anti-rust anti-freeze this very day! Remember, it's only $1.00 a gallon, 25¢ a quart.

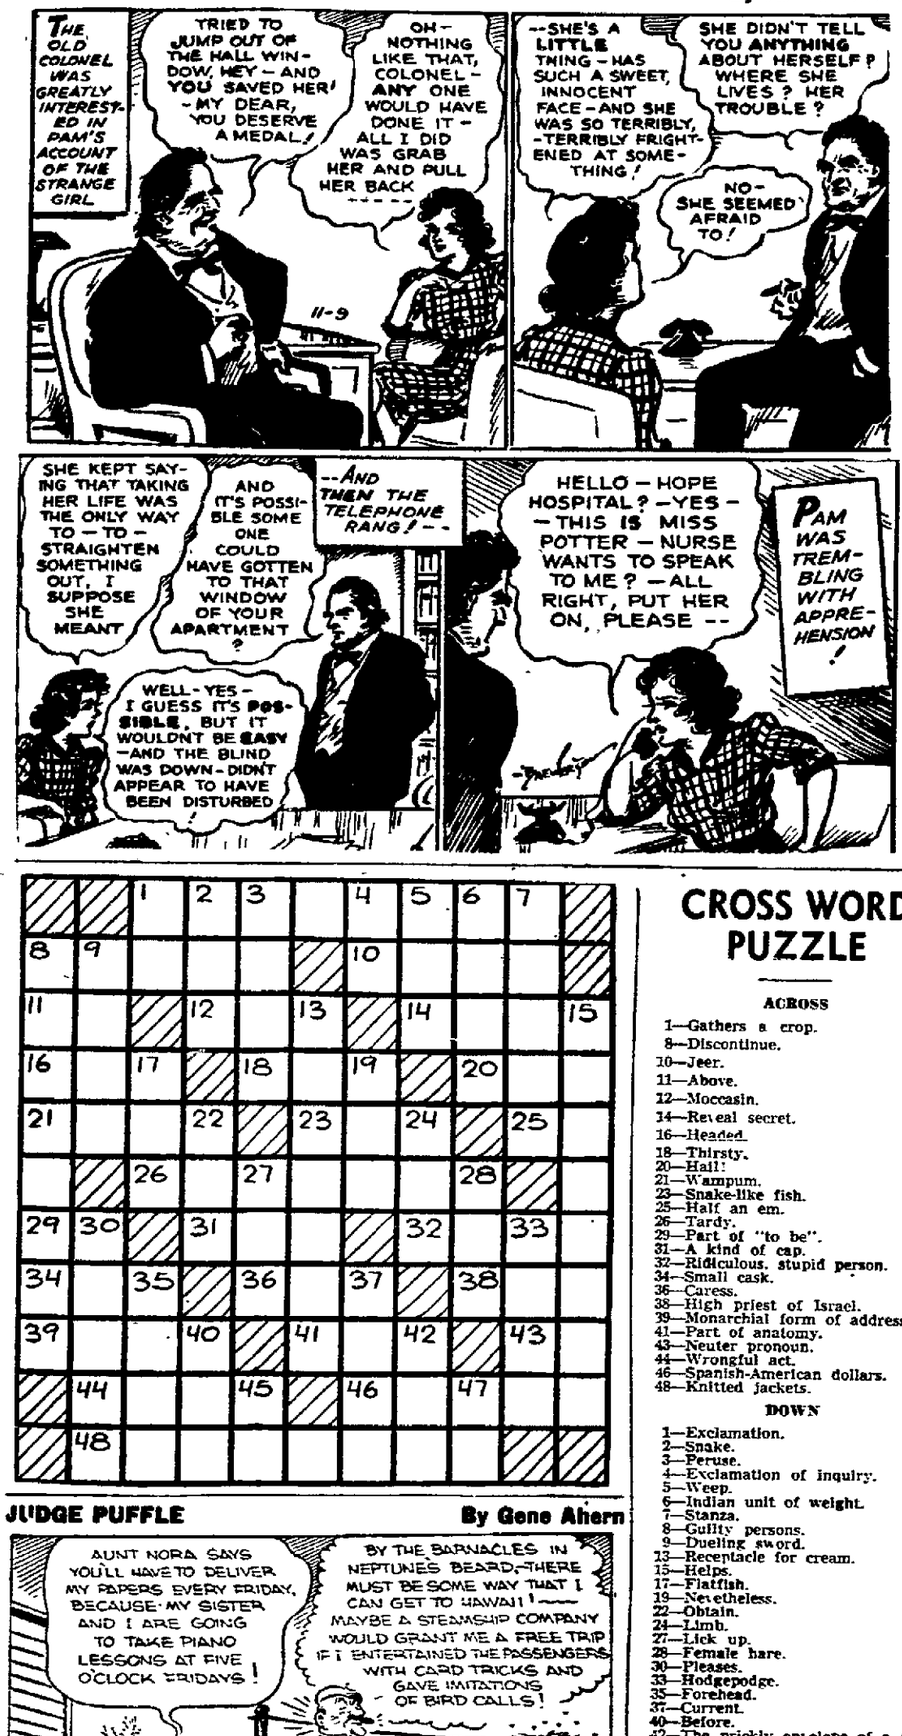
PAM—Hope Hospital Calling! By A. W. Brewerton



THE OLD COLONEL WAS GREATLY INTERESTED IN PAM'S ACCOUNT OF THE STRANGE GIRL
TRIED TO JUMP OUT OF THE HALL WINDOW, HEY — AND YOU SAVED HER! - MY DEAR, YOU DESERVE A MEDAL!
OH — NOTHING LIKE THAT, COLONEL — ANY ONE WOULD HAVE DONE IT — ALL I DID WAS GRAB HER AND PULL HER BACK
11-9
--SHE'S A LITTLE TNING — HAS SUCH A SWEET, INNOCENT FACE — AND SHE WAS SO TERRIBLY, -TERRIBLY FRIGHTENED AT SOMETHING!
SHE DIDN'T TELL YOU ANYTHING ABOUT HERSELF? WHERE SHE LIVES? HER TROUBLE?
NO — SHE SEEMED AFRAID TO!
SHE KEPT SAYING THAT TAKING HER LIFE WAS THE ONLY WAY TO — TO — STRAIGHTEN SOMETHING OUT, I SUPPOSE SHE MEANT
AND IT'S POSSIBLE SOME ONE COULD HAVE GOTTEN TO THAT WINDOW OF YOUR APARTMENT?
--AND THEN THE TELEPHONE RANG! --
WELL - YES - I GUESS IT'S POSSIBLE, BUT IT WOULDN'T BE EASY — AND THE BLIND WAS DOWN - DIDN'T APPEAR TO HAVE BEEN DISTURBED
HELLO — HOPE HOSPITAL? — YES — — THIS IS MISS POTTER — NURSE WANTS TO SPEAK TO ME? — ALL RIGHT, PUT HER ON, PLEASE --
PAM WAS TREMBLING WITH APPREHENSION!

STEELS, MOTORS SUPPORTED IN MIXED MARKET

Highly Pleasing Business News Fails to Stimulate Speculative Spirits.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Steels and motors tilted forward in today's stock market while many other groups were at a standstill or a shade lower.

Support was given U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Eastern Airlines, Douglas Aircraft, U. S. Rubber preferred, Pennsylvania and International Mercantile Marine.

Inclined to lag were Kennecott, General Electric, American Can, Sperry, Glenn Martin, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck and American Smelting.

The fact highly pleasing dividends, earnings statements and other business news have failed to stimulate speculative spirits, brokers said, was more of a restraining market factor than was developments abroad.

On the bright side of the market picture were the figures of the automobile manufacturers association disclosing October factory sales of cars in the domestic and foreign fields totalled 337,670 units compared with 192,672 in the preceding month and 215,286 in October last year.

It was explained that the sharp rise over September was due partly to the usual fall expansion in automotive activity. In September, it was recalled, many plants were completing retooling and just getting assembly lines moving.

Comfort was derived from the summary of the Engineering News-Record placing construction awards for the week ended Tuesday at 44 per cent over the corresponding 1938 period.

RHEUMATIC
Pain Torture

The Hursh's Drug Store anticipates one of the largest sales of the year this Thursday, Friday and Saturday. "The manufacturers for two of the finest medicines have given us the exclusive for this sale," states Mr. Hrush, manager.

WHY THIS OFFER IS MADE -- WAY BELOW COST

The manufacturers of these medicines have sold thousands of bottles of these medicines in the west and on the Pacific Coast. Both medicines were so well received there and such wonderful results obtained from their use, that this prominent manufacturer feels that the best advertising in the world is to have people try their medicine. The results will speak for themselves and this will be the finest advertising that they can do. That is the reason for selling their medicines way below cost.

Everyone in Mansfield and the vicinity who suffers attacks from the pain of rheumatic, neuritic or neuralgic agony can actually obtain a full trial size bottle of RUX COMPOUND for only 25c. The regular full size bottle sells for $1.50 all over the United States.

Thousands of people have vouched for the amazing power of RUX in relieving torturing Rheumatic, Neuritic and Neuralgic Pains.

THE SECRET OF RUX

Within four minutes after you take a dose of RUX, it will begin to be absorbed into your Blood Stream. These Amazing salicylates reach aching, inflamed muscles and give them relief. Some people have been so distressed with muscular rheumatic pain (in arms, shoulders and legs) that they could scream with pain—and RUX relieved these attacks in an almost unbelievable way! Ask any modern physician about the remarkable power of the salicylates, which RUX contains.

MR. JOHN N. HORTON

MICHIGAN MAN TELLS HIS TRUE EXPERIENCE

Mr. John N. Horton, Owosso, Mich., says: "I have been having Rheumatic Pain attacks which at times were quite intense. Sometimes I could hardly bear the pains caused by putting on or taking off my coat. Only those who have suffered Rheumatic Pains know the suffering I endured. I experimented with many suggested reliefs. Finally, I found RUX Compound and am happy to say that after taking it, I feel so different. RUX relieves those sharp Rheumatic Pain attacks and I am so grateful that I exp

Aviator Denies Superstition But Won't Fly Jan. 1

ST. JOSEPH, Mo.—(INS)—William Harlammert says he isn't exactly superstitious, but anyway, he won't go up in an airplane on his birthday, Jan. 1.

Halammert is manager of the Rosecrans airport at St. Joseph and has just rounded out 13 years of flying. The number 13 holds no terrors for him. In the 13 years he has been flying, Harlammert has flown 1,000 hours without a serious mishap. In fact, he has had only one minor mishap which occurred when his motor failed him one day six years ago. He landed in a field and neither he nor his passengers were injured.

Harlammert is one of Missouri's youngest World war veterans. Although only 14 years old he managed to join the army and celebrated his fifteenth birthday at Brest, France, while serving in the 89th division.

NO WONDER HE LOST TEMPER

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. — (AP)—Patrolman C. A. Lunnen attached a brake-testing machine to a motorist's car and ordered him to drive 20 miles an hour for the test. Something diverted his attention and the car sped out of sight.

Later an exasperated driver called at the police station—miles away—and demanded the machine be removed. "I don't see why I have to drive 20 miles for a brake test anyway," he snapped.

Bring Back Two Deer From Canadian Trip

Willis Countryman (left) and C. W. Marks, who returned this week from the wilds of Canada, always bring 'em back — but never alive. Countryman, who lives in Butler, and is one of the best known big game hunters of this section of the state, and Marks, who lives at 205 Helen avenue, spent two weeks in Ontario, near Glendale, and returned with two deer, which are shown across the fenders of the car, and a 650 pound black bear. The big game attracted a lot of attention when the hunters parked their car on West Fourth street for a few minutes after their return.

'Boy' a Girl So Parents Change Name to Dorothy

ST. LOUIS—(INS)—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Glenk had to change the name of their new baby from William Albert to Dorothy Ann.

It all came about because the mother and father were under the impression that their child was a boy until Mrs. Glenk returned home from the hospital with the child.

Glenk explained the mixup by relating that he was working the day the child was born, and had phoned the hospital frequently inquiring about his wife. On the last call, he said, a telephone operator at the hospital told him, "You've got a big boy."

Mrs. Glenk also thought the child was a boy. She said the nurses who brought in the baby to her for nursing always referred to it as a boy.

The hospital records list the child as a girl and it was explained at the hospital that nurses and attendants never refer to a baby as being a boy or girl but always as female or male. It was believed that the Glenks may have mistaken the word "female" for "male."

The child had already been given the masculine name but the parents changed the name to Dorothy Ann.

At any rate, it all ended happily for the Glenks had wanted a girl.

Want to Feel like a Big Shot?

PROBABLY you're a big shot already to someone, so you know something of how good it feels.

What we mean is, how'd you like to feel like you used to think a big shot must feel, cruising along in his big brawny Buick, envy of every youngster in town?

Fact is, a big brawny Buick—this year's beauty of a Buick—is within your reach right now, if you just put your mind to it.

A husky headlong 107-horsepowered giant valve-in-head straight-eight can be yours to command—you can roll around town in the staunch and steady carriage that's sure big, beautiful and a bearcat in action when its boss gives the word!

Yes, you can ride in the gentle lap of Foamtex-cushioned luxury—shift gears with a flip of your finger, take bumps without notice in BuiCoil Springing's "full float" comfort, even signal your turns by a touch on a lever that shuts itself off when you're through with it.

And what do you pay for all this—budget-bursting prices?

Ix-nay! On the contrary, you can buy a Buick for less than some sixes! And you'll find when you look into what's included in these prices that they cover many an item that you will be asked to pay extra for elsewhere.

All it takes, really, is the imagination to step up to the car you've really wanted—and once you've made that step, there's no real problem, for this Buick retains its extra first cost in the extra trade-in value it has when you come to buy again.

So lift your sights. Quit grading yourself down. This year, go after the car you really want—which means talking delivered prices and trade-in terms with your nearest Buick dealer.

CANADA SERENE AS TWO MONTHS OF WAR PASS

'Business as Usual' Motto of Country as People Wait for Latest News.

(By United Press)

VANCOUVER, B. C.—"Business as usual" was the slogan as Canada ended its second month of war today. The Dominion did not officially declare itself at war with Germany until Sept. 10, but she was to all practical purposes at war the moment Britain so declared herself on Sept. 3.

Here on the west coast, in Canada's great Pacific outlet, as all through the Dominion, there was little except dress to remind one that the nation was at war.

Uniforms are seen sprinkled among the people on the street, the militia regiments having been brought up to full strength.

The world's liners that only a short time ago steamed into Vancouver's inland harbor all gleaming white now slip in and out unannounced, painted a grim camouflage gray.

Most concrete evidence of the war is experienced when Canadians, crossing the border for the day, find their money discounted as much as 40 per cent. No increases in the price of American goods imported into the Dominion have yet occurred, but they are expected to follow in view of the uneven exchange.

Occasional stories are heard about food hoarders being prosecuted, mainly small retailers withholding supplies of sugar and like commodities for a price rise, but they are few.

But on the whole there is little to remind the visitor of the war. To many there seems a sense of unreality about it. "I just can't convince myself there's a war on," is the sentiment often heard expressed.

There is none of the hysteria that attended the last war; no mass singing in theaters, no passing of the white feather to non-recruits by zealous women, no flag waving, no excitement.

No call has yet been issued for Canadian troops, but plans have been completed to send overseas the First Canadian Division as soon as it is needed on the Western Front.

BATTERY D FACING INTENSIVE TRAINING SESSION THIS WEEK

Men and officers of Battery D, 134th Field Artillery, will go through an intensive two-day training period Saturday and Sunday in compliance with orders from the War Department, Capt. R. J. Nichols, commander of the Mansfield National Guard unit, said today.

From 7 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. on Saturday and from 7 until 4 p. m. on Sunday the men will drill and study. The program will include dismounted drill, military discipline and courtesy, cannoneer's drill, drivers' instructions, and training in use of field telephone and arms control instruments.

Nichols said that the two days of training is a part of a program of seven days ordered by the War Department for the National Guard, which must be accomplished before Jan. 1 in order to comply with peace-time training regulations. The other five days for Battery D will be Nov. 22-26 inclusive when the unit will join its regiment at the state Fairgrounds at Columbus for concentrated drill and study.

Saturday and Sunday the 70 men and four officers of the battery will eat all of their meals at the armory with the commissary department set up in a lot adjoining the building. The armory will be open to the public during the two days. The War Department has asked employers to give National Guardsmen time off for the seven days of training, Nichols said.

At 9:45 a. m. Sunday the battery will go to First Lutheran church where their regimental chaplain, Rev. Grover E. Swoyer, pastor of the church, will preach.

Suspect Roosevelt Awaiting Third-Term Draft

Unlike in football, neither side in the European conflict is being penalized for taking too much time out.

The old-time pirates have been cleared out of Louisiana—present-day politicians having improved greatly in technique.

The World of Tomorrow is suspending operations until next spring—and the world of today isn't doing so well either.

Making Education More Practical

MORE thought is being given nowadays to the advantage of directing high school education along practical lines than was done even a short generation ago.

Providing opportunity for salesmanship students in senior high school to gain some actual experience in selling is an example of this trend and co-operating merchants are to be commended for their willingness to open the way for this valuable training.

Those who have taken the trouble to observe differences in the attitude of clerks toward customers cannot fail to realize that there is an art in retail selling which must be learned and that impressions of a store are governed largely by the manner in which clerks serve their patrons.

It need scarcely be said that some clerks, young and older, are temperamentally unfitted for that kind of work but, in the main, with proper training, a young person with good manners, pleasant personality and willingness to work, can be developed into a satisfactory clerk in the type of store where affability, salesmanship and thorough knowledge of stock are among the requirements.

Whatever, in schooling, will serve to better acquaint young people with the fundamentals of work in which they may be later engaged, should be encouraged by parents, teachers and all others who are in position to provide such opportunities, whether in industrial, commercial or professional lines.

Bigelow Says He'll Try Again

UNDAUNTED by the more than two-to-one defeat of the "ham and eggs" pension plan by California voters at Tuesday's election, promoters of the "$30 Every Thursday" fantasy are encouraging their deluded adherents to believe that "ground is being gained" and that, within another year the proposal will win majority approval.

This is not unlike the position taken by Herbert Bigelow, whose two constitutional amendment proposals were thrown into the discard by Ohio voters Tuesday but who immediately announces plans to bring another pension scheme to vote next year—WHICH HE CAN DO, IF ENOUGH SIGNATURES TO PETITIONS CAN BE SECURED.

Thus far the propagandists for all sorts of cockeyed pension plans have been able to find enough gullible followers to kick in with contributions sufficient to provide ham and eggs for the promoters, and it may be that this something-for-nothing delusion will extend through another year.

While California has, in recent years, gained an unenviable reputation as a breeding place for nutty notions, that condition has not applied to Ohio and it is regrettable that one person with such unsubstantial qualifications for leadership as the Cincinnati preacher-politician, Herbert S. Bigelow, should be able to place himself in position to stigmatize the intelligence of Ohio's citizenship.

If it is the serious intent of Bigelow to again pester Ohio voters with other asinine proposals it is none too early to attempt further education of potential petition signers, in the hope that they can be made to undersand the fallacy of any such utopian schemes.

More Work for Humanitarians

EVERY time Adolf Hitler has another triumph, the humanitarians of other countries have to go in and rescue the surviving victims. Americans are now asked by the Red Cross to help with that mournful job in Poland, along with the same organization in Britain and France. If Hitler is ever interested in helping his victims when the shooting and bombing and burning is over, it has not come to public notice.

Naturally in such circumstances charitable Americans, while full of sympathy for the starved, sick and dispossessed populations, resent having such a duty thrust upon them. If armies must surge across boundary lines in cruel and ambitious conquest, common decency should move the statesmen responsible for them to take care of the human derelicts they create.

Village Approves Sewage Bonds

RESIDENTS of South Boulevards, the youthful village adjoining Mansfield on Lexington avenue, gave almost unanimous approval Tuesday to a $27,000 bond issue required to supplement WPA funds in constructing a sewage system to serve that community.

Already supplied with other modern conveniences, growth of South Boulevards has been such as to require more adequate sewage disposal facilities, and it was largely with this accomplishment in view that residents, within the past year, took action to incorporate as a village.

Another advantage, it may be noted, is that incorporation of South Boulevards served to reduce legal speed to 35 miles an hour at that entrance to Mansfield, which had theretofore been among the city's most notorious speedways.

Harmony Essential to Progress

HARMONY is a word that is more likely to be applied to music than to business—yet it is essential to both.

Music changes and reflects the times. Business is much the same and unless the requirement for flexibility is recognized and acted upon continued progress would be impossible.

When people are struggling against tyranny, only a favored few can advance above mediocrity. When freedom is attained, and equality of opportunity assured, individual initiative is encouraged and living standards are raised for millions of wage-earners.

The United States has been the world's greatest example of the possibilities along this line. Whatever weaknesses appear in the operation of American government—national, state and local—can be attributed to human incompetency or dishonesty, rather than to the principles upon which this nation was founded. Further betterment must come through improvement of the instruments by which government is administered.

Watching Trends

—By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—British and French airplane orders coming after the lifted embargo will be passed around among manufacturers where they will do the most good for Yankee preparedness at the same time they get results for the Allies.

Here is a sample of what will be done. The French have taken a strong liking to the hot little Curtis pursuit plane, known as P-36. They say it is out-fighting the much feared German Messerschmidts, which were held up as tops among fighters when the war started. Likely the French would prefer to buy about all the Curtis plant can product. However, the army has prior orders with Curtis for a faster and handier plane than the P-36. It is called the P-40.

The French will have to shop around among other factories. That won't be such a hardship. A half dozen other plane makers have submitted plans to the army and navy for ships considered only a shade less effective than P-40.

* * *

Will Cause Expansion.

THE Army-Navy munitions board won't be able exactly to tell the French and British where they must buy but force of circumstances will compel them to buy from plants which are not filled with U. S. plane orders. That will mean expansion of plants which could not be boosted to mass production by U. S. orders alone.

Incidentally, it will put money in the pockets of some of the plants which heretofore have been less well-heeled. Then they too can experiment on better and better planes.

And, incidentally, long before repeal of the embargo was voted by the senate, the French had placed additional orders with American plane manufacturers—on a "soon as" basis. The British, more fearsome of creating a backfire against repeal, appear to have withheld.

* * *

Odds and Ends.

HISTORICAL NOTE: Naval hero Paul Jones once put the U. S. in practically the same position as Germany now is with respect to the captured City of Flint. Jones captured three British merchantmen and stowed them away at Bergen, Norway, which then belonged to Denmark.

The Danes, shivering under British guns, surrendered the ships to the British and we Yankees yelled like everything. The Danes, barked at fore and aft, offered to pay us something but not as much as we asked, so we refused the offer. We never collected anything.

* * *

THE French have a word for it. They describe the newly shaping neutrality as "neutralite bienveillant." It seems to mean neutrality—with a wish for the best.

* * *

PROBABLY the most unsmiling of all senators is Frazier of North Dakota. Even in the piping times of peace he was almost never seen to smile and now is doubtless farther from a smile than ever. To him, repeal of the embargo is not a step toward war but a running jump.

TO MRS. ROOSEVELT has fallen the job of lightening the burdens of the president, now that he is so pressed with war problems. Diplomatic dinners have been abandoned by the White House for the winter. Receptions will go on as usual.

Replacing the dinners will be afternoon musicales and teas. Mrs. Roosevelt can handle them all by herself and the president doesn't have to show up at all. It saves him time and energy. It imposes more burdens on Mrs. Roosevelt, but when energy and endurance are needed, she has a boundless supply.

Listen, World!

You CAN Shut a Door.

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

THE ROOM is untidy—perhaps filthy. It is filled with ugly, depressing objects. It would make you miserable to stay in that room. It would spoil your day. You have no time to clean the room. Perhaps it is not your room to clean. So you go out of that room and shut the door behind you.

You shut the door behind you, and as you shut it, you forget that room. You remove the memory of it from your mind as you have removed the sight of it from your eyes. Then you go ahead with your work or your play and succeed to build a useful, happy day.

You shut a door.

That's a simple act . . .

But it's also one of the most significant acts on earth. Life couldn't go on unless we were able to shut doors behind us and go out to other things.

Life ISN'T going on for many people because they haven't shut doors behind them. They have shut physical doors—BUT THEY HAVE NOT SHUT MENTAL DOORS.

Did it ever occur to you that you must shut the door of your mind if you are ever to succeed in life?

You must. And you can. You can protect your mind as surely as you can protect your body. You can shut doors on the things you do not wish to remember or consider. You can shut your mind against all thoughts of mental trash and filth and ugliness.

You can shut your mind against the demoralizing memories of remorse and grief and anger and fear. You can shut the door on anything you wish.

Nor do you need to be very strong or very smart to do this. It is one of the simplest exercises of the human will. A child can learn to do it. As a matter of fact, most children do it unconsciously. Children put unpleasant experiences behind them very easily and quickly. They think what they please—and often we consider them cold-blooded little monsters because they do.

But they're not cold-blooded. They're simply healthy and natural. It is only when we humans become older, and all gummed up with sentimentality and self-indulgence, that we lose the trick of shutting doors . . . and waste our lives roaming around through our accumulated mental clutter.

You CAN shut mental doors and you are neither very mature nor very civilized unless you do so.

We think it is a sign of sensitiveness to "live in the past" . . . to "feel things terribly" . . . be unable to shake ugly, unhappy impressions. But it is not a sign of sensitiveness. IT IS A SIGN OF LAZINESS . . . OF MENTAL SLOVENLINESS AND WEAKNESS.

You've no more right to waste your time and energy by sitting in the messy shadows of memories than you have to park yourself in some dirty back lot, with your face turned from the busy, sunny streets.

You have no more right to let every ugly, hateful sight intrude upon the secret places of your brain and heart than you have to allow some filthy, diseased tramp to invade the rooms of your beautiful home.

"We can't control our own though, can we?" How often have you heard that whining alibi? How often have we made it? And we really believe it? That's the tragic part of it—we have been allowed to grow up in the belief that we can't control our own thoughts. We teach little children millions of silly useless things, but we never teach them the one fundamental and most important fact in healthy living—namely: WE CAN CONTROL OUR OWN THOUGHTS.

"Well, I've never seen anyone doing it!" you snort.

Yes, you have. Every inventor, every creator does it. Must do it. Newspaper writers, for example—they learn to write regardless what is happening in their personal lives. I have known men and women who wrote, because they HAD to write, while their children lay dying.

YOU CAN SHUT A DOOR. It's your greatest power as a man. You're not fit to be called a man unless you do it.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — I have always heard that if an actor who has worn a certain necktie day after day suddenly walks on the stage with a different tie on, the rest of the cast is likely to go sky-high in its lines. This happened once to Helen Claire in "Kiss the Boys Goodby," and she says her mind was a blank for five minutes during which she spoke lines mechanically but had no knowledge or later recollection of what she was saying.

This same sort of "trip" almost got Katharine Hepburn off balance in "The Philadelphia Story," when Dan Tobin walked on the stage with a glaring red tie. After the scene she asked him never to do that again. Next night Van Heflin wore the tie in the first act, Tobin wore it in the second act, and Frank Fenton wore it in the third. On each occasion Kate's eyes opened wide, and her lines went fluttering out of reach.

But that wasn't all. There is a wedding scene during which Kate unwraps all her wedding presents, and you can imagine what happened when she unwrapped one package and found that red necktie.

* * *

GETTING back to Dan Tobin, he confesses to being thrown out of university three times, and finally he wandered away to Europe, got a brief stage job in London, and came back to New York, where his persuasive qualities won him his present part as Hepburn's brother, a writer, in "The Philadelphia Story."

After word of his success seeped out into the Ohio valley, he picked up a copy of the publication of the University of Cincinnati one day and found there not only his picture but an amazing story of his undergraduate career which ended on this note: "He is one of our most successful graduates."

This so delighted him that he wrote the university at once, demanding his diploma.

* * *

I WON'T ask you to believe this. I don't know whether I believe it or not. In any case, a man who is now about 50 years of age was sitting in a restaurant where a girl with a guitar drifts slowly from table to table, singing songs. As she approached his table the man began to stare at her, and suddenly his companion noticed that something was wrong with him. Then the man fainted.

The next night he came back, but the previous night had been the last night of this girl's engagement, and she was gone. "She reminded me of someone I knew, a long time ago 25 years ago," was his explanation.

But he looked her up, and found her, and she was the daughter of a girl he himself had once been engaged to marry. He did not say why the marriage never came off. But he has not been back to that restaurant since.

Daily Bible Thought

Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greater in the kingdom of heaven.—Matt. 18:4.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—For more than two years the Washington newspaper corps, supposed to possess some of the most resourceful brains in the country, has been trying to get an answer to the big political question-mark of the nation: "Will Roosevelt run for a third term?"

All sorts of questions have been fired at the president, and he has given all sorts of dodges in return. It has become a game. Newsmen now get together in advance of press conferences to devise new and more artful ways of getting an answer, or at least trying to get an answer from the president.

First newspaperman to put the blunt query to Roosevelt was Robert Post of the New York Times in June, 1937. Post minced no words. "Mr. President," he said, "would you accept nomination for a third term?"

It was one of the few questions ever to get under Roosevelt's skin. "Go off in the corner and put on the dunce-cap," he shot back, hardly batting an eye.

* * *

The Dunce Club.

THE next few third term queries brought exactly the same answer, with the result that a group of Washington coddespondents got together to form the "Dunce Club."

Discouraged, they did not try to draw the president out again until December 6, 1938, when one of them reminded Roosevelt of a pro-third term statement by Senator Guffey of Pennsylvania and asked the president whether he would accede to Guffey's wishes. This brought a good laugh from Roosevelt, but nothing more.

Six months later, the boys made another effort. This was in June, 1939, by which time Jack Garner had made it quite evident that he was going to run for president.

"That sounds as if it should be answered by Question No. 57," shot back the president. Noboby knew what that was unless he was referring to pickles.

Next question was fired at Roosevelt on June 13, just after Harold Ickes had written an article in Look magazine proposing a third term. Cross-examined regarding this in a White House conference, the president maintained a stony silence. He said he had only read the headlines.

Some commentators, for want of better clues, seized on this particular answer as being milder than the dunce-cap reply and proceeded to write "think pieces" representing Roosevelt as virtually back in the White House again.

This brought a stern warning from the president at the next press conference. Undue significance had been attached to his failure to rebuke the newspaperman who asked that question, he said, so now he would ask the man to "go stand in the corner."

* * *

McNutt for Second Place.

A MONTH later, July 18, one of the newsmen quoted a syndicated column which said that Roosevelt would run for another term with Paul McNutt running for vice president. Asked for comment, Roosevelt chided: "Would it be fair to label that a newspaper story?"

Ten days later, July 28, ingenious newspapermen thought up a new scheme to smoke out the president. "Can you say," queried one of the conspirators, "when the country can expect a statement from you on the third term?" To which Roosevelt feigned surprise, chuckled and said "No."

The best third term question asked of Roosevelt came from Fred Perkins of the Pittsburgh Press, who on August 1 uttered this pretentious statement:

"Mr. President, would you care to say a few fitting words regarding the important occasion which will have its 12th anniversary tomorrow?"

Here newsman Perkins paused dramatically, then continued, "I refer to the occasion when Calvin Coolidge made his statement, 'I do not choose to run.'"

The entire crowd laughed, including the president, who could think of nothing better at the moment than to ask if this meant he was being invited to spend his summer at the Black Hills.

Most recent effort to smoke out Roosevelt on the third term came from Jim Wright, of the Buffalo News, who recited this parody:

"He's riding high and he's riding straight.
He's riding for the White House gate."

To which Wright added: "In which direction, Mr. President?" Even this, however, did not get a rise out of Roosevelt.

* * *

Democratic Candidates.

NOW, with congress out of the way, some real heat is being put on and this time it comes not from the Republicans or the press, but from the Democrats. It's being done very quietly, but the pressure is plenty severe.

Chief needlers are Vice President Garner and Senator Burt Wheeler, who have ambitious campaign plans and have been pulling every possible wire to get Roosevelt to talk. Wheeler, who was opposed to lifting the embargo, was said by administrationites to have intimated he might go along with them in their neutrality fight if the president would agree to declare himself after congress quit.

Jim Farley and Paul McNutt, also harboring 1940 hopes, likewise would like to see Roosevelt speak up, but they are letting Garner and Wheeler take the lead in prodding him.

Farly has had one personal talk with the president about this, at their famous Hyde Park conference last August just before Jim sailed for Europe. Roosevelt told him he would state his position before next spring, but gave Farley no clue to what it would be and no approximate date.

Reason for the Democratic demand of an immediate statement is obvious. The boys figure that if the president talks now, the chances are ten to one he will take himself out of the race; whereas if he continues silent until next spring, pro-third term sentiment within the party may be stoked up to such an extent that event if he said he wasn't a candidate he might be "drafted" anyway.

Privately they suspect this to be his strategy, and it has them plenty worried. The candidates know their only chance to get anywhere is to head off a third term bandwagon rush.

Roosevelt is letting them sweat. There isn't a person in the world who knows when he will talk or what he will say when he does. Those closest to him are convinced he doesn't know himself, yet.

Farm Mortgage

(A FARMER'S DIARY)

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

I WALKED through a field of corn stubble, admiring the straight, tall rows of shocks. The soil was black and severed stalks were heavy. At the farther end I saw a man sitting in the midst of heaps of fodder, husking. He did not notice my approach.

He was beyond middle age. His worn, red, wrinkled face, beneath his battered old felt hat, was weary and discouraged. I noticed him pause to meditate, as he stripped the husks from a long ear. He might have been counting the grains, so long he sat motionless. When he did resume work, his movements were like someone in a troubled dream.

My appearance startled him. He reeled back at sight of me, then smiled and greeted me most kindly. His sorrowful look was banished and he seemed a different man.

"You have a bumper crop this year," I said.

"Yes, this is a blamed good farm. We've lived here 30 years, come spring, and my wife and me both feel like the place is a part o' us. See them fine tall shade trees in the yard? We planted 'em. The oldest boy and I set out that orchard on the hill, too. My children was all born here—and one lies over yonder in the cemetery atop the rise. Funny, ain't it, how all a fellow's memories get tied up with the place he lives and works for most o' his life?"

"I've often admired your place—the spring, and the orchard and the upland and lowland both on the same farm," I told him. "It seems possible that you could raise almost anything that grows, right here."

"An' next spring we'll have to leave it," he said. And then I looked upon him as he was before he greeted me.

"But why?" I asked.

"Well—you see we liked the place, and it needed fixin' up. We bought it when prices was high. Then we put too much of our earnings into improvements and didn't pay enough on our mortgage. Now it's due, and the man must have his money. I asked him couldn't he just wait two years more, and my boys could help me—but he won't. I told him it'd be worth more to me than anybody else, since I'd put the improvements on—but he only laughed. One thing I do hope—that the ones who buy it at forced sale will come to enjoy it here, like we do."

WPA Reveals How 'Tipping' Practice Started in U. S.

BOSTON—(INS)—Did you ever wonder where the custom of tipping originated and how it got its name?

The WPA Historical Records Survey claims to have the answer to both questions.

It originated at the Ames Tavern in Dedham. And this is how it got its name, according to the WPA:

The tavern was on the middle road between Hartford, Conn., and Boston. Often as many as 12 coaches drew up at its door with customers for breakfast.

The inn was equipped with a small box nailed to the wall with a slot at the top through which to drop money.

On the box were printed the words "To Insure Promptness," or, abbreviated, "T.I.P." Guests, of course, were supposed to drop something in and the money was divided among the servants.

Frequently some employee would remind a guest of the custom by pointing to the box and mentioning the initials of the inscription. As a result, the box gradually became known as the "Tip Box" and the money paid as a "tip."

WATCH OUT FOR YELLOW LINES!

They're New Means of Warning Motorists to Stay in Right Hand Lane.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS—The double line which runs down the center of Ohio's highways on hills and curves has been abandoned and experiments conducted in Ohio have established a new system for the entire country.

For years the state highway department had painted this double line at all points where vision was obstructed. Motorists weren't supposed to cross a double line unless they could see that there was no oncoming traffic.

Motorists' complaints poured in to Harry E. Neal, chief of the department's bureau of traffic. Drivers told Neal that in hilly sections the double line ran for miles. There was no way to get around a slow moving truck unless you crossed the line.

The Highway Research board, a national organization, made Neal chairman of a "no passing zone" project committee. He went to work on experimental sections of the state highway system and tried all conceivable forms and colors of center lines.

The experimenters discovered that a continuous white line should run down the center of the highway. This divided the road into two lanes.

For curves, hills and other situations where a motorist could not see ahead to detect approaching traffic he had to be kept on his side of the road.

This was done by painting a bright yellow stripe about four inches wide just inside the white center line in the lane of the driver whose vision was obstructed.

The only rule to be observed is this. When the yellow line is in your lane do not cross it, if the yellow line is in the opposite lane it is not intended to warn you and you may cross it to pass other cars.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

NAZIS BLAME BRITISH FOR PLOT ON HITLER

Chancellor Leaves 'Beer Hall' 11 Minutes Before Explosion Kills 7, Injures 60.

EST) and left at 9:10 p. m.

The terrific explosion, which tore loose the rafters and felled a large column immediately behind the rostrum, occurred at 9:21 p. m.

(British official sources scoffed at charges that the British secret service and Jews were responsible and a spokesman declared: "Doubtless the gentlemen who engineered the Reichstag fire of 1933 know how to do those things."

In Paris, French diplomatic circles said they interpreted the incident as indicating a split in the Nazi party over Germany's new partnership with Soviet Russia.)

Hitler arrived in Berlin by train at 10:30 a. m. today (4:30 a. m., EST) and was met at Anhalter station by Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering and Dr. Hans Heinrich Lammers, liaison officer between the wartime ministerial council and the Fuehrer.

They drove immediately to the chancellery where a conference was held with Col.-Gen. Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the high command of armed forces, and Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop.

Officials congratulated Hitler and later Italian Ambassador Bernardo Attolico led a procession of diplomats to the chancellery to pay their respects.

A crowd outside stood silently in a drizzle.

It was assumed wholesale arrests were being made by the Gestapo (secret police) in the Munich region but officials declined to disclose the number.

A death list announced by the propaganda ministry disclosed that one of the seven dead was a woman. She was believed to be Frau Maria Henle, cashier of the beer cellar but was not definitely identified.

Others were Franz Lutz, Wilhelm Kaiser, Franz Weber, a radio announcer; Leonard Reindl, Emil Kasberger, and Eugen Schachta.

The eight dead were said to have been killed instantly.

With the fuehrer were Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels, Deputy Party Leader Rudolf Hess, Labor Leader Robert Ley, Interior Minister Wilhelm Frick, Labor Service Leader Konstantin Hierl, Alfred Rosenberg, head of the Nazi party's foreign political division; Ritter von Epp, governor of Bavaria; Wilhelm Schaub, Hitler's personal adjutant; and Julius Streicher, governor of Franconia.

Hitler himself was safe aboard a special armored train at the time, heading toward Berlin after an address which was regarded generally as preparation for his people to face a prolonged conflict.

Munich authorities, aided by one of the heaviest concentrations of police and investigators in the city's history, searched for clues but strictest secrecy was maintained and nothing was said about arrests.

Violent Explosion.

Witnesses of the explosion said it was so violent that a hand grenade or amateurish infernal machine could not have caused it.

The beer hall had been one of the most strictly watched spots in Munich for days and no explanation was offered how a foreigner or conspirator could have entered.

The train that brought the Fuehrer here after the impromptu annual address in which he warned that Germany would "speak the language which England understands," was said to be one of the safest trains ever built.

Technical experts said its padded coaches and steel-shuttered windows could withstand the force of a mine exploded on the tracks.

"We thank providence for sparing the Fuehrer," an early morning radio commentator broadcast.

But he is moved by fanatic hate for the perpetrators of this outrage. Enemies will learn what it means to lay hands on Adolf Hitler."

Officials charged with the security of the Fuehrer's person had the scare of their lives and the energy with which they plunged into the hunt was shown by the reward offered for information — 500,000 marks (about $200,000).

A semi-official statement said "clues indicate the plot originated abroad" and it was expected therefore that Germany's borders would be watched carefully for evidence of intrigue.

Launch Spy Hunt.

The clues were not disclosed. But there were signs that the Nazi secret police, and the Schutzstaffel, Hitler's black-shirted elite guard, were launching a spy hunt and a drive to wipe out enemies of the Nazi regime in politics and the war.

Official German sources unqualifiedly blamed the explosion on British agents and declared it was provoked by Jews.

"If anything could have strengthened our will for victory or made us more faithful to the fuehrer, it is this attempt to murder Adolf Hitler," declared Deutscher Dienst, the commentary service of DNB.

"In the future we will deal differently with those who become criminals for English gold. Let England be informed we are keeping an eye on the enemy. We know after this action that everything is at stake."

In the spacious room at the time of the blast were mostly obscure Nozi oldtimers who fololwed Hitler in the unsuccessful 1923 uprising. Many of them were said to have been supervisors on German highway building projects.

Blast From Above.

They had remained after cheering the fuehrer on his way and still were discussing his address with its declaration that Germany was prepared to fight, and win, a five-year war.

The blast came from above, indicating the possibility either that explosives had been hidden in the ceiling or smuggled to a room above.

The interior of the hall was wrecked, tables were strewn about and the Nazi comrades thrown to the floor under the piles of wreckage.

Munich was thrown into turmoil and cut off from telephone communication with the rest of the country for several hours, until the situation was fairly well in hand.

Police swiftly blocked off the area surrounding the hall, and the city, which has been blacked out each night since the war, suddenly was bright again as street lights were turned on to aid the police and guide ambulances.

Most of the inhabitants were puzzled by the illumination and some began a short-lived celebration in the belief a peace effort had begun.

But Hitler had declared that Britain wanted no peace and that Germany was "prepared never to capitulate."

BEWARE, PROF., YOU'RE IN BAD

He Says Tests Prove Men Smarter Than Women; Always Wins.

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa.—(U.P.)—The male of the human species is superior in intelligence to the female, according to Prof. William Reuter, Westminster college psychologist.

In a review of the ancient controversy between the sexes, Reuter asserted, on the basis of tests, that it has been proved that woman rarely becomes successful through her own ability.

"Men have always beaten women in every field, even in their own domain of cooking and dressmaking," Reuter said.

'MA' WEIGHS 95 BUT DRIVES BIG TRUCK WITH BEST OF THEM

(By United Press)

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Driving a 12,000-pound truck is a cinch for Mrs. Katherine Rainville, who weighs 95 pounds.

Averaging 50,000 to 75,000 miles a year, "Ma"—as she is known to truck drivers—carries new automobiles between Buffalo, N. Y., and Providence in all kinds of weather. When loaded, the weight of her truck is doubled.

Mrs. Rainville not only drives the truck but makes whatever repairs are necessary. She also loads and unloads the vehicle after getting the 200-pound runways in position.

"I'm not afraid of any kind of weather," she says. "Many's the time I've driven my trailer truck through the Berkshires when it was so slippery you didn't even dare put your brakes on. I've never had an accident."

Most truckmen know and like "Ma," but occasionally she meets someone who doesn't approve of women truck drivers. "Then,' she says, "I just act a little high hat, too."

"Ma" learned about machinery on her father's farm and bought her own truck while helping her husband in his trucking business.

When not busy on the interstate highway, she likes to cook for her husband and two children at their Longmeadow, Mass., home.

PITTSBURGH—(U.P.)—Although Austria and Czechoslovakia have been rubbed off European maps, U. S. commercial map-makers are standing firm on the Polish invasion.

AUTOS SAFER THAN HOMES

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—(U.P.)—It's far safer to go for an automobile ride than stay at home in Alabama's capital city. Statistics of the state department of health disclose that there were 21 deaths caused by home accidents in Montgomery last year, as against 12 ascribed to motor vehicle accidents.

TIN FOIL? MAN HAS HALF TON

Collects 44 Barrels in Year to Establish All-Time Record.

WEBSTER, Mass.—(INS)—Champion of champions in the collection of tinfoil is the claim of Willard Knowlton.

In the course of one year he collected 44 barrels, or more than a half a ton, of tinfoil which was transported by truck to the Shriner's hospital at Springfield. The previous year he sent 29 barrels.

Knowlton already has started on his second barrel, hopeful that next year he would surpass even the mark of 44 barrels.

COUNTY SCHOOL POST UNDECIDED

Election Officials Await Vote From 3 Bordering Counties to Decide Board Race.

two posts to be filled, while C. L. Bloom of Shiloh, the fourth candidate, received 1,552 votes.

A. F. Porter, clerk of the election board, said the mix-up is the result of recent school mergers which brought sections of five other counties into the Richland county system. Voters in those districts cast their ballots in their home precincts, but the votes for county board are tabulated in Richland county.

Porter said returns from Knox, Huron and Crawford counties had not been reported although he had requested election officials in those counties to telephone them in.

Returns from Richland county alone gave Hunter a lead of 46 votes over Ritchie in the school board race, but the vote from Ashland and Morrow county districts put Ritchie ahead by five votes.

Porter said he would ask the secretary of state to change the voting set-up in school districts to avoid a repetition of the mix-up by permitting voters in neighboring counties to cast their ballots on Richland county school matters in this county.

Elects Complete Board.

In another heated school race, the Union rural district in Weller and Franklin townships elected a complete board of five members from a field of 11 candidates in Tuesday's election.

Chosen on the board were E. R. Hershey, Russell R. Myers and Charles F. Laser, incumbents, Lester Lantz, and Arthur Pugh. Defeated candidates were Wesley Boals, Ozra Ferrell, Wilbur E. Pifer, George Robinson, Thomas P. Crabbe, and Vonie B. Oswalt.

The flip of a coin will decide the township trustee winner in Plymouth township where S. H. Carnahan and Virgil Baird tied with 241 votes each. The coin-flipping will be in the board of elections office with the two candidates calling their choice.

Winners in the county's 18 townships are:

Blooming grove Township — Trustee, George C. Swanger; clerk, Charles F. Laser; justice of peace, W. W. Kirkpatrick; constable, Vernon D. Greenawalt.

Butler Township—Trustee, Warren L. Smith; clerk, Melvin Yoha; justice of peace, Merle S. Wolf; constable, George Walker.

Bomb Threat Enters Probe of Turfman's Gang Murder

O'HARE SLAIN IN ATTEMPT TO FLEE GUNMEN

Police Hear of Telephone Threat to Bomb Home of Chicago Sportsman.

CHICAGO — An anonymous threat to bomb the home of Edward J. O'Hare added a new element of mystery today to the slaying of the nationally known turfman.

The threat to "blow up" the suburban Clencoe resident of the wealthy horse and dog track operator was telephoned to a maid whom the caller advised to leave immediately.

O'Hare, 45, and president of Sportsman's Park race track, was slain in gangster fashion late yesterday afternoon after a wild automobile chase along Ogden avenue.

The victim raced his expensive automobile northeast toward the loop apparently knowing he was marked for death. His car smashed into a pole when he turned into a side street. The assassins then slowed almost to a stop and fired two shotgun charges.

An unfired .32 calibre pistol lay on the seat of O'Hare's car. A crucifix, a rosary and a religious merallion in a box marked "happy birthday" were among the effects found in his pockets.

Investigators reported they also found a memorandum which indicated O'Hare recently had been in touch with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. This led to a theory that the underworld may have suspected him of having given information to the FBI. The FBI refused to comment.

Investigators also considered the possibility the slaying was the culmination of a quarrel arising from horse racing activities. The police said O'Hare had voiced a desire to quit the racing business because of the "heat."

O'Hare was an attorney in St. Louis before turning to racing more than a decade ago. He waxed prosperious in the greyhound racing business in southern Illinois. Later he became manager of the Hawthorne dog track in Chicago, a plant in which the Al Capone gang had an interest.

Declares Allies Won't Compromise U. S. Neutrality

PARIS—(UP)—France and Britain never will compromise the neutrality of the United States, Finance Minister Paul Reynaud said today in a speech before an American club luncheon at the Interallied club.

"It is not men that the French Republic and the British Empire need," Reynaud said. "It is arms, materials and machines."

He urged wider exchanges with the United States as "one of the aspects of liberty." He asked that French labor produce to pay for shipments of needed supplies from the United States.

"If, during the present war, we commit the error of letting ships arrive loaded from the United States and return empty we will be sowing the germs of a new crisis after the war," Reynaud said.

"France is determined to fight Hitler's totalitarian war until she obtains a totalitarian peace," he said.

Goon suffered multiple fractures of his jaw, a fractured left arm and lacerations on his face.

Names don't mean much to some voters when they go to the polls, former Mayor Earl A. McFarland decided today. Although he was not a candidate for any office and received no votes for any, a number of persons have told him since election that they voted for him for Madison township trustee McFarland guessed that they must have confused him with G. W. McFarland, a distant relative, who was re-elected trustee Tuesday.

GANDHI PRESSES BRITAIN AGAIN

Renews Demand for India's Political Freedom, Claims Problems Will Be Solved.

(By Associated Press)

BOMBAY—A strongly worded demand for India's political freedom, delivered by Mohandas K. Gandhi, added new fuel today to the fire of Indian unrest which Britain has been trying to subdue pending the end of the European war.

Rejecting the British contention that India must achieve unity before acquiring dominion status, the wizened, 70-year-old hindu nationalist leader declared at Wardha that only through "freedom from bondage" can his people solve their internal problems.

"Once a declaration to free India, not in easy stages but at once, is made," Gandhi said, "an interim solution will be found easy. The protection of the rights of minorities will then become simple."

He added that "if the time has not yet come for acceptance of the fundamental truth, I would suggest that a further effort to reach a solution be suspended."

The utterance brought no immediate reply from the British viceroy. Lord Linlithgow, who had announced Sunday that he would continue his efforts to reconcile differences between Gandhi's dominant all-India congress party, the moslem league and the Indian princes.

SEES U. S. OF EUROPE AS ONLY SOLUTION FOR OLD WORLD ILLS

If Europe wants to continue to exist, the dream of Kant, Goethe and Woodrow Wilson must come true, Dr. Emil Lengyel told an audience of 500 at Mansfield Senior high school auditorium last night, pointing out that a United States of Europe is the only satisfactory solution to the troubles of the old world.

Contrasting the last World war with the present crisis, Dr. Lengyel, an author and newspaper correspondent, and an authority on European affairs, stated that Chamberlain wants to fight Hitler WITH the German people.

Adolf Hitler is the key man of Europe—perhaps of the world, and if we can solve the enigma of Hitler, we can understand the plight of the world," Dr. Lengyel said. He spoke here under the auspices of the Educational Committee of the Delano lodge.

"One of the secrets of the man is his lack of originality," the speaker asserted. "He knows that people don't want to have their thinking patterns upset, so he doesn't upset them. He has a standard speech which he gives upon every occasion.

"He gives away some of his secrets in his amazing book, 'Mein Kampf,' in which he says you must repeat, and repeat, and repeat an idea; appeal to the uneducated masses, and talk to your audiences in the evening when their resistance is low."

Speaking with a decided accent, Dr. Lengyel stated that Hitler is the victim of a mental disease—paranoia.

"He is now in the third stage of the disease having passed through the period of hearing voices, and the persecution mania—he now has the God-complex," Dr. Lengyel said.

"The collapse of a paranoid resembles the ascent, that is, it is swift and spectacular. The only reason that Hitler is able to continue as he has lies in the fact that he is completely uninhibited, he has no fear of anyone or anything. The paranoid personality has made some of the world's best philosophers and most flagrant murderers.

"The fact that there doesn't seem to be a solution of this war, demonstrates the impossibility of Europe continuing the present basis of nationalism. It can mean only the final downfall of modern European civilization. Nationalism has become an absurdity," Dr. Lengyel added

In his lecture the speaker was slightly optimistic about the chances for a united Europe because he said the necessity would develop economically, and spread to a political union.

LOVE FLIES OFF

Fire 'Hero' Gets Prison, Stirs Girl Friend's Anger.

CLAYTON, N. J.—(INS)—Stanton Cheeseman, 17, became a hero last Saturday night when he dashed into the burning home of his girl friend, Bernice Gorman, 17, while she and her parents were away and saved Bernice's five younger brothers and sisters.

Friends thumped him on the back, Bernice's father congratulated him and Bernice looked on him with renewed favor. Cheeseman rode the crest of a popularity wave.

But today, the youth began an indefinite term in reformatory. Police said he confessed setting the fire, waiting until it made headway and then effected the rescues so as to win his girl friend's love.

IT NEVER FAILS!

Firemen Have to Interrupt Banquet to Fight Grass Fire.

WALTHAM, Mass.—(AP)—Waltham firemen—all of 'em—sat down at a banquet to honor Chief George L. Johnson, 70, retiring after 52 years with the department.

It had to happen of course.

An alarm came in and firemen, all slicked out, rushed out to extinguish the blaze—in a plot of grass on Main street. Then they called fire departments of nearby towns and asked them to cover up while they finished the banquet.

U. S. GIVEN FEW APPLICATIONS FOR LICENSES

Expected Rush of Orders Fails But Officials Anticipate Brisk Business Soon.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Issuance of licenses for the export of war materials to Britain and France has begun at the state department—but only in dribbles.

Some officials who envisioned long lines of applicants waiting for the state department doors to open every morning this week have been disappointed.

One reason for the delay is the fact that the department had to prepare new application blanks. The new neutrality law requires more detailed information from the manufacturers and exporters of war materials than did the preceding act.

Nearly $80,000,000 in export licenses had to be cancelled when the arms embargo of the old act was imposed, but these will be reissued as fast as the applications come in and are approved. The cancelled licenses were almost entirely to Britain, France and Australia, and called principally for airplanes

Licenses issued in the next month or so are expected to total several hundred million dollars.

Administration of the new neutrality act is imposing more duties on the state department and on the treasury, which supervises much of the "cash and carry" program.

About 160 organizations have registered with the state department for permission to collect funds for charitable distribution in the belligerent countries. Department officials are finding in some cases that they are being called on to act virtually as accountants to help the organizations straighten out their books.

The principal problem arising since the neutrality act was signed last Saturday has been the application of the United States lines for transfer of eight ships to Panamanian registry so that they could continue in transatlantic service.

SEAPLANE FALLS

German Craft Shot Down, Another Damaged, British Say.

LONDON—(UP)—A German seaplane was shot down and a second damaged in battles over the north sea involving three Nazi aircraft and two Royal Air Force reconnaissance planes, the air ministry announced today.

The air ministry said the second British plane went into action against two German flying boats in succession and broke off the combat after damaging one, only when its ammunition was exhausted.

FAIR ENOUGH!

Analysis of Why Scheme Like Ham and Eggs Could Root Only in California

—By WESTBROOK PEGLER

LOS ANGELES—This community lives under ether and utters weird cries in its waking dreams. The dominant thoughts of the majority can be expressed only in double-talk and the bankrupt swindler is respected as living proof that the American way is wrong, while responsible men are reviled as saboteurs against the beautiful ideal of failure. Old men are incited to hate the young and fit and able in Los Angeles and these younger people are moved to anger at the old or to lean upon them for support.

In Los Angeles, and elsewhere in Southern California, Americans who profess democracy have invoked the democratic process of the referendum to vote on a loathsome substitute resembling Hitler's national socialism.

It is not strange that people who rush like mythological beasts under a spell to worship gods conjured by tailboard fakers, should follow political frauds with police records known to all.

Nothing is strange in Southern California, except sanity, honesty and the acceptance of moral and civic obligations which are standard in communities not yet bereft of the will to try.

* * *

It was here that old Doc Townsend, while shaving his waxen face one morning, saw an old woman picking garbage in an alley and, in that instant, conceived a plan which, contrary to his own benign intention, has now created mass suspicion and hatred as between the aged and the active generation. Townsend's scheme has been stolen, distorted and souped up by younger men, including one convicted of preying on gray hairs with a fake restorer, and a proposal to pension the senior citizens with counterfeit money has aroused in thousands of Americans a determination to shirk off their parents and be done with an obligation that is respected even in savages.

* * *

It is not simply that the young are tempted to avoid their duty. Many of course voted for ham 'n' eggs for that reason, but others were further enticed by the thought that a father and mother drawing $60 a week between them, or two fathers and two mothers drawing $120 a week could spare enough to permit a younger married couple to live in idleness. Ham 'n' eggs does not stimulate filial decency.

On the other hand, the elders voted for ham 'n' eggs, hoping that the counterfeit would buy something. At their age the sacrifice of their own liberties would mean little and the freedom of their sons and daughters is equally unimportant. When responsibility goes, dignity goes and liberties are cheap.

* * *

The elders, puffed up by the sales term "senior citizens," as a group are suspicious of the younger people because the greatest opposition comes from those below 50.

To an old man or woman who believes in the counterfeit any younger person opposed to the plan is a personal enemy, heartless, selfish and determined to drive the old to the park benches until at last they die.

Finally, there is another group composed of younger ineligibles employed at small wages who resent being asked to work hard for less money than older people, including many who are by no means decrepit, would receive for loafing to the end of their days.

The necessities of the aged poor, the greed of many old people who are not in want, and the laziness and unwillingness of many younger ones to make sacrifices for their parents, are being exploited to create a great political turmoil all over California and perhaps to bankrupt the state.

Los Angeles is a city whose people, in the main, are citizens on the town, not of it, drifters from everywhere and campers not settlers. There is no other region in the country, perhaps no other on this earth, with a like proportion of old people, not all of them sick, infirm or poor, without homes in any real sense of the word and with no interest in the community or anything that may happen to it as long as they are paid, fed, housed and buttered with the rancid fattery of the term "senior citizens."

Most of them never contributed anything to the building of the region but came late in life to loaf in the sun while men and women of stronger character, greater stability and better report back home remained where they were. It is indelicate but true to say that Southern California "senior citizens," as a class, as of even date, represent no spiritual, intellectual, political or economic gain, but a net loss in all departments.

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Uncle Sam will be cheered to know that our statistical department just reported that his prosaic army pays its buck privates more than fabulous Hollywood does. . . . Department tackled the problem when a Warner statistician opined that fighting for Warner Bros. (in "The Fighting 69th") probably offered an extra more monetary return than fighting for Uncle. . . . Not so, not so.

. . . Average yearly wage of dress extras is $320.92, and they're the highest paid of the extra classes. At $30 a month a U. S. private draws an annual $360, plus board and room and medical care and clothes, etc.

Myrna Loy, who got started on this "perfect wife" role as Nora Charles, wife of the detective, comes out with a startler: Nora (says Myrna) is not "the perfect wife." . . . Nora, in the Loy point of view, lives too fast a pace, is seldom calm or composed, is always afraid she's going to miss something exciting. Quote: "It's amusing to remember that Nora is considered an ideal wife—yet she never seems to have a home. In the latest Thin Man picture, she does become maternal with her baby—but she skips off to night club or other function with such abandon you wonder if she's ever going to settle down!"

Saw Lupe Velez breaking up a wedding (for "Mexican Spitfire") and getting socked in the face with French pastries, very gooey. They seem to be wasting no time reverting to pie-throwing technique as revived in "Hollywood Cavalcade"—but here's hoping they remember what happened to the zany cycle when it was overdone. . . .

Bobby Connelly, the dance director on "Broadway Melody of 1940," brings up a poser. . . . The war is supposed to whet the public appetite for light comedy and musicals, and at the same time the war is supposed to cut the production budgets of pictures (not of "Broadway Melody," of course!) . . . Bobby points out that musical production costs are always higher than straight dramatic stuff—because you have to buy songs and pay songwriters, you have to have an orchestra, you have to rehearse for weeks ahead of time, and usually the rehearsals include a gang of chorines in addition to the expensive principals. . . . Big choruses, however, seem to be on the way out, which is tough on the chorines, but whittles the budget.

* * *

The director who made Bob Montgomery's best picture, "Night Must Fall," is Richard Thorpe. Now that Montgomery has another story of his own choosing in "The Earl of Chicago," Thorpe is steering him again. . . . We've heard so many stories about strange noises that upset production for hours because the soundman couldn't locate it) that we don't believe them any more. . . . On the "Earl" set I saw it happen: the strange creaking that had bothered the mike all morning was traced to Reginald Owen's starched shirt-front!

Disturbing thought: If Carole Lombard laughed on the screen just once as she does in real life, she'd never be able to play another dramatic role.

WELL, WHAT ABOUT THIS FELLOW, EPOD, BOYS?

FIRST PRISONERS HELD IN BRITAIN

Nazi Soldiers Locked in Disused Old Mill Play Games.

LONDON—In an old disused mill "somewhere in England" the first 40 German prisoners of war are today enjoying life in an internment camp.

The mill stands at the foot of a number of hills on the outskirts of a large industrial town, and all roads leading to it are barricaded.

Guarded by soldiers with loaded rifles and police, the Nazi prisoners are under strict supervision in the mill grounds, isolated by two fences of barbed wire. They are given plenty of exercise and are allowed to play games.

CATS OUTSMART POUND KEEPER

GREAT FALLS, Mont. —(AP) —There are two cats in Great Falls, the poundmaster admits, that are "too smart for me."

Reporting to the city council on his alley-cat-catching campaign, he said the two cats annoy residents in the Third street district.

"They escape or evade every trap we set," said the poundman. "They are as slick as greased pigs."

Sentries at U. S. Fort Put On Wheels Cover More Ground.

CHEYENNE, Wyo. — (INS) — While the main body of troops is away on maneuvers, a skeleton force of First Infantry soldiers at Ft. Warren is doing guard duty on bicycles.

Officers say one man in this manner can cover the same ground of two or three sentries on foot.

In Crater Case?

Located in a hospital at Long Island, N. Y., a former Broadway showgirl may be able to give the necessary clues to the solution of the nine-year-old mystery of what happened to New York State Supreme court Justice Joseph F. Crater. The girl, June Brice (top), a former resident of Columbus, O., is said by counsel for Mrs. Crater to have been visited by the justice the night he disappeared. Miss Brice's mother, Mrs. M. E. Holstein (bottom), dated the girl's mental difficulties from the time of Crater's disappearance and pleaded that they "stop bothering by girl."

STOLEN AGAIN

GALION — Police report that an electric drill and equipment valued at $60 was taken from the Fred C. Miller store here some time Tuesday night. A month ago, the same drill together with an electric grinder and electric pump jack were stolen from the store. Most of this equipment was later recovered.

THEATERS

THEY are having title trouble again on a Madeleine Carroll picture. This time it's "Safari." Last time it was "Honeymoon In Bali" which started out to be "Are Husbands Necessary?" This title looked a bit too pertinent when Miss Carroll applied for a divorce during the making of the picture. The company didn't want to use the word "Honeymoon" or "Bali" in connection with the picture, but wound up with both. "Safari" is considered bad because too few people know what it means or how to pronounce it. Bad titles slow up a picture as happened in "Cafe Society" and "The Underpup."

Sacrifices Charm.

Bette Davis sacrificed charm and good looks in "The Private Lives of Elizabeth and Essex" on the altar of realism and truth. Elizabeth was neither young nor attractive when her love affair with Essex took place and the actress wears a make-up in keeping with the character. This interesting chapter in British history has been brought to the screen by Warner Brothers and it is being shown at the Ohio tonight for one performance. The regular showing of the film here will be Nov. 18. Tomorrow's one-day bill will be the Jones Family in "Too Busy To Work."

Plans for Stage Play.

The Madison theater is concentrating its efforts this week on working out plans for the presentation there next Thursday of the first legitimate play in more than a year. "What A Life" is the saga of Henry Aldrich an appealing high school adolescent with a genius for getting into jams; a boy whose horizon is darkened by the fact that both his parents were intellectual while he would much rather go to the school dances. Jackie Coogan of the movies plays Henry. Beauteous Cyrilla Dorne appears opposite him.

Prison Story.

"You Can't Get Away With Murder" is the title of the latest prison story by Warden E. Lawes of Sing Sing prison, which revolves around Humphrey Bogart as an underworld character and his protege in crime, played by Billy Halop. Gale Page, who is best known for her work in "Four Daughters," plays the feminine lead. "Law of The Pamas," featuring William Boyd, is another of the Hopalong Cassidy films. Both films are being shown at the Majestic Friday and Saturday.

Ferber Story Filmed.

One of the best of the Edna Ferber books, ranking with her "Cimarron" and "Show Boat" is "Come and Get It," the pictured version of which is at the Park theater. Edward Arnold plays the self made timber man who rises by brute force sweeping aside all obstacles in his path. He meets his Waterloo when he falls in love with the girl whom his son loves. The second film is "The Saint In London."

Big Crop of 1939 Debs Expected In Capital Society

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Washington mamas, glad that American boys fill staglines instead of trenches, will bring their daughters out to bow this winter despite war abroad and a new Thanksgiving date.

Some are jittery about the international situation. Others are hesitant about the whole debut idea. But gradually they are crowding tea dances and balls onto a social calendar that was left nearly bare when diplomats quit big-scale entertaining and the White House cut its social schedule in two.

The capital is promised its biggest crop of buds in several years, with petal blossoms from cabinet, diplomatic and congressional families as well as from titled and wealthy clans.

For a time, President Roosevelt's change of Thanksgiving day threatened to upset the deb cart because not all the colleges agreed with him on the date.

The season will have glamour, social scouts declare, because among the debutantes might be a girl who would be giving parties in the White House next year. Some political observers have rated Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace and Solicitor General Robert Jackson as "presidential possibilities" for 1940, and both have daughters coming out.

SURVEYS VITAL

SEATTLE, Wash —(INS)—Complete surveys of the vast uncharted areas of Alaskan waters are vital for national defense as well as commercial use, in the opinion of Admiral L O Colbert, director of the United States coast and geodetic survey.

Colbert, in Seattle to attend the launching of a new survey ship, pointed out

"In the Bering Sea there is an unsurveyed area of 750,000 square miles And south of the Aleutian islands an ocean domain the size of the State of Washington is still unchartered

DID YOU SEE HOW FAST SHE DID THOSE DISHES, AND HOW THEY SPARKLED
SHE SAID THE NEW 1940 RINSO IS EASY AS EVER ON HANDS
DID YOU NOTICE HOW LONG RINSO SUDS LAST? THAT'S REAL ECONOMY!

Amazing "suds-booster" added to New 1940 Rinso— at no extra cost to you!

THERE'S a big treat in store for you at the FREE home-making demonstration. You'll discover that cup-for-cup the New 1940 Rinso gives up to 6 times as much suds as 19 well-known soaps tested. And you'll see how fast Rinso dissolves . . . even in hard water. You'll be thrilled to notice that Rinso suds are rich, long-lasting . . . and remember, Rinso prevents hard-water scum from forming on the wash water. Best of all, you'll witness how Rinso washes clothes up to 10 shades whiter than many bar and package soaps. For an expert's demonstration of how to make dishwashing and all cleaning quicker and easier—go to the free cooking school lecture now.

Miss Ruth Chambers Mansfield News-Journal home-making expert says:

"THE new 'suds-booster' that has been added to Rinso makes it give far richer suds in hardest water. These thick suds get clothes snowy white and keep washable colors bright. The New 1940 Rinso chases grease from dishes fast. It's kind as ever to hands"

The Mansfield News-Journal Expert MISS RUTH CHAMBERS will give her demonstration at OHIO THEATRE At 9:00 A. M. Tomorrow

NEW 1940 RINSO—GIVES FAR RICHER SUDS!

Nazi Envoy at Soviet Party

Because of delicate political conditions in the mother countries in Europe, the news spotlight was turned on the Russian embassy's celebration of the 22nd anniversary of the October revolution Washington society, generally interested in who would come, was more interested in who would not come. Several diplomats were absent, but among those present were the German charge d'affaires, Hans Thomsen and his wife, shown above, and the Finnish minister, Hjalmar Procope.

PETTERS FALL FOR 'RACKET'

SEATTLE, Wash — (U P) —A "racket" as old as the first courtship took on a startling, business-like efficiency in Seattle, it was revealed with the arrest of three youths who confessed they blackmailed "petting" couples.

"We'd just sneak up to the car, open the door and turn a flashlight on them. We'd tell 'em we had the license number of their car and could easily find out the name

"Then we'd say: 'Fork over!' They'd do it almost every time."
